Fiscal Condition at Pacifica 'Not Good', Tax Boost Due

By DON GRIERSON

Extra work for city employees, a ban on time-and-a-half pay for overtime and the threat of "an outbreak of odors" at the sewer treatment plant are among the dire possibilities outlined in Pacifica City Manager C. W. Masonheimer's second annual "bare bones" budget message.

In his 1968-69 budget message to the council, Masonheimer said this week it is 'once again necessary to report the fiscal condition of the city is not good," and that, in the light of what followed, was putting it mildly.

"It may be that this city will have to take drastic reorganization steps, perhaps the reassignment of public works and fire personnel to additional duties," the manager said.

Unless additional revenues are obtained from a now unforseen source, the city will have to take "imaginative action" to cut expenditures, according to the manager.

Among the possibilities he has imagined, "without necessarily recommending," are cutting off the city's contributions to the chamber of commerce and reducing the 24-hour-a-day operation at the sewer treatment plant by a few hours "even at the expense of an occasional outbreak of odor problems."

Masonheimer also notes that holiday pay costs can be reduced if "the time-and-a-half policy is reversed."

Even with these rather stringent economy measures, the city will need a 25-cent tax increase to meet expenditures of $2,193,427 during the 1968-69 fiscal year, he said.

The present tax rate is $2.01 per each $100 of assessed valuation, and the proposed4 increase would give Pacifica the highest rate in the county.

Expenditures for the current fiscal year totalled $1,869,614.

Most of the additional funds to be obtained under the proposed increase this year would go to bond interest and redemption of the city's sewer bonds, Masonheimer indicated.

The requested tax increase comes after deletion of more than $300,000 in departmental requests, "all of which are justified by need," according to the manager, and his budget proposal contains no provision for the hiring of additional personnal.

The budget also makes no mention of salary increases for city employees.

Masonheimer said the city's financial problems are compounded this year by the necessity of a $102,000 expenditure for the new police station.

He said the financial picture should improve "after this one-time expenditure is digested."

"Last yead the total tax rate presented in the preliminary budget was reduced by the amount of levy necessary to provide for bond interest and redemption. Bond money was used for this purpose, but that cannot be done again," he said.

"The proposed tax rate is up by almost the exact amount necessary for this purpose."

"Adding to the city's fiscal condition is the one-dollar tax limit for the general fund. The limit has been reached, and there is no more property tax money to be had for the fund that finances the basic city services."

"This precludes any appreciable increase in personnel so seriously needed, especially in the police department, and makes it impossible to adequately provide for capital purchases," Masonheimer said.

Stating that the city has about reached its fund-raising capacity, the manager suggested that the council support moves "to seek a redistribution of local money back to local sources" from the state and federal government.

He also suggested that the city consider adopting a charter "to provide the establishment of a fiscal system" and give more leeway in raising money.

D.C. Pay Hikes Asked

The Daly City Personnel Board has recommended to the City Council a five per cent over-all pay hike for city employes, plus an increase in clothing allowances for firemen.

And for the third straight year the board has asked the council to abolish the residency requirement for employees. The motion was passed by a 3-2 vote of the board.

Members Melford Battye and Glenn Woman voted against abolishment of the rule, while three members — J. Jay Flynn, Bob Wong and Bob Young — voted for the measure.

Frank Gillis, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees local official, had asked for the five per cent increase over-all, along with several other fringe benefits including health coverage for dependents.

The board recommended against the expanded health coverage and another measure which would have given employees three weeks vacation after three years. The present outline calls for three weeks after six years.

S.S.F. Okehs Art, Culture Committee

The South San Francisco City Council adopted a resolution establishing a "cultural and arts committee" Monday, and authorized appointment of seven members to the interim committee.

Committee members will serve two year terms, and will be appointed by the mayor, with confirmation by the council under terms of the resolution.

The committee, formed on the suggestion of Councilman Frank Mammini, will be instructed to "develop and propose to the council format of a permanent cultural and arts commission.

Mammini proposed two weeks ago that the permanent commission be formed immediately, but members of the city's recreation commission requested the matter be investigated further before appointment of a permanent body.

Foxridge Squabble Persists

By WILL THOMAS

There still appears to be discord among Westborough property owners over whether or not front parcels of the Foxridge Junior High School in the South San Francisco Unified School District should be sold for subdivision purposes.

Although the South San Francisco City Council has received word from the Westborough Improvement Association board, agreement to a compromise proposal, a resident of the tract — John O'Conner — told councilmen Monday that the association board's decision didn't reflect the views of most residents of the area.

At least, no full membership meeting had been called by the Westborough board, O'Conner said, since a meeting two weeks ago with trustees of the school district.

At that meeting, agreement on a proposal for the district to retain four "lots" for landscaping purposes and to sell seven others for residential development was reached. It was merely an agreeable proposal, one that had to be taken back to full memberships of all parties concerned, including the school district, municipal agencies and the Westborough citizens.

O'Conner reiterated his previous thinking that the land should be preserved for future additions to the school.

It should be converted into a "mini-park" until such time as it is needed for school classrooms, he said.

He explained his belief that conversion from a district-

NEW WESTBAY PLANS for development of its properties on the San Mateo County Bayfront cover WCA's ownership of 10,179 acres. The plans envision a variety of uses for the property, but the most prominent considerations are open space and preservation of large water areas, and development of a viable economic base to support the plan's environmental amenities. In total, 68 per cent of the property is ear-marked for public parks, wildlife preserves and open water, with another 12 per cent including open spaces for public use in areas of private development. The recreated shoreline would be 112 miles in length, almost all of it accessible to the public as compared with about 2 miles of accessible shoreline in the present 27 miles.

CATV's Legal View of D.C. Act Last Week

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Revocation of a cable television franchise by the Daly City council last week may be illegal, an attorney for the California Cable Communications Corporation said Monday.

Attorney William Ferdon said the action of the council in cancelling out the franchise to operate a cable television system in the city was not only in violation of existing PUC codes "but those persons in violation of this particular code (6001) may find themselves faced with misdemeanor charges."

"Are you saying you could kick me out of office after I've faced the electorate?" Mayor Bernard Lycett asked.

Ferdon sidestepped the question with an explanation that he was bringing this to the attention of the council to show the importance placed on franchise agreements by the PUC.

The attorney explained that when a company expends funds there must be certain "safeguards" to insure this expenditure is protected.

"When a franchise is under question of revocation the matter must be referred to the State Attorney General for determination before action can be taken, in accordance with the PUC code," Ferdon pointed out.

He said franchises were usually "sold" through sealed bids or cash auction bids.

There has been only one revocation of a cable TV franchise in the United States — in Pennsylvania several years ago — Ferdon said.

"We're practically making history, then," Mayor Lycett said.

The controversy came to a full boil two weeks ago when city attorney Albert Polonsky charged the CATV outfit with not living up to its promises to either the city or its subscribers. Two public hearings were held and arguments from both sides were presented.

The council decided the company "has failed to provide all the (TV) channels required by the agreement with the city and by the Federal Communications Commission" and a resolution revoking the agreement was unanimously passed by the council.

Ferdon said the move was illegal and "we do not consider the revocation effective."

The CATV attorney threatened to take the matter to court

More Promotions In Jeff District

The Jefferson High School District in Daly City announced three more personnel promotions Monday, boosting to seven the number of changes made in less than two weeks.

Figuring most prominently in the reshuffle is Dr. Floyd Gonella, who has completed his second year as Thornton High School principal and was to have served as summer school principal.

Gonella, following a personnel session of the district's trustees, Monday night, was promoted to district director of educational services.

Replacing Gonella at Thornton and as summer school principal, effective July 1, will be Ralph B. Galloway, 42, who will become the district's first Negro administrator.

The third appointment went to James P. Zylla, 38, present Jefferson High School attendance supervisor, who will become vice principal at the high school, succeeding Ed Cereghino, named principal of Jeff High last week.

Zylla, who holds a BA from St. John's University and an MS from Creighton University, has been in education 13 years, three of them in the Jefferson district.

He started his teaching career, according to Dr. Harold Tonini, assistant district superintendent, at Boys Town, Neb. He also previously taught at Colton Joint Union High School in Southern California.

Galloway has BS and MS degrees from North Carolina A&T in the major fields of English and business education.

He has been director of student activities at Jefferson High School for two years.

With 16 years in education, Galloway has been in the Jefferson district three years. He previously taught at Riverside and Twin Pines High Schools in California.

Dr. Tonini said Galloway has

Bay Fill Snags Are Foreseen

Plans for a mammoth fill project along some 27 miles of San Mateo County shoreline may once again run into snags from the tiny mountainside town of Brisbane.

Exactly one year ago the Brisbane City Council, under pressure from a group of local conservationists, passed a resolution (323) supporting Burlingame in that city's determination to "preserve the open waters of San Francisco Bay."

In passing the resolution the Brisbane council felt it would be protecting San Bruno Mountain, the city's scenic backdrop, from being scarred by developers using the landmark as a source of fill material.

And while the Westbay financial combine, developers of the proposed bayfront plan, have not revealed how they would transport any fill material from

D.C. Citizens Ask Skyline Overpass

A group of Daly City citizens has asked the City Council for a pedestrian overpass at the Skyline Boulevard site of a fatal accident last week in which a woman was struck and killed by a motorist whose brakes apparently failed.

Mrs. Jean-Louis Tissot, representing the group, sent a letter to the council requesting construction of the overpass be considered as soon as possible at the Skyline Boulevard-Westmoor Avenue intersection.

Discussion of improvement of this intersection goes back several years, according to Councilman Micheal DeBernardi and the state has shelved proposed plans for a grade separation at that location.

Cost of the overpass is estimated at $75,000 with the state and city sharing the expense, the council was informed during a study session in City Hall Monday.

At best, the state's plans for such an improvement are five to ten years away City Engineer Art Reschke said.

Councilman DeBernardi said the grade separation talks have been going on "for at least four years" but the state has not been willing to "go along with it."

City Manager Edward Frank pointed out that a new traffic light system had only recently been installed.

The victim of the recent accident, Mrs. Miyoko Good of 15 Easton Street, was killed while crossing the street in a pedestrian lane with the green light.

Pacifican Is Held In Slaying

Fred Albert Naylor, a young Pacifican arrested as a suspect in the rape-slaying of a 13-year-old San Franciscan girl Friday night, was reported missing to the Pacifica Police Department on Sunday, sources close to the case revealed today.

A police spokesman said Naylor's wife filed a missing persons report after the 25-year-old, part-time service station attendant failed to return to his Montecito Avenue residence in Pacifica over the weekend.

San Francisco police have charged Naylor with the rape and slaying of Lana Punchak, a junior high school student, discovered with her throat slashed in a home where she had been baby sitting.

The girl's body was found about 2:15 a.m. Friday at the Thirty-first Avenue resident of Mrs. Marian Bain. She was

Minister's Draft Dilemma

By JOHN HORGAN

When is a religion not a religion?

And—to further complicate the issue—when does a ministerial draft deferment for one cleric from that faith constitute a precedent for other ministers of that same religion?

Two young San Mateo County men, both of whom are members of a rather obscure sect known as The Church of the Lord Jesus Christ, which operates out of Brisbane, would like some answers on these matters, especially since one of them, Rev. Robert Senter Kimball, 25, faces certain induction into the army unless the county's draft board reconsiders his case.

However, this case—and the very religion itself—is not as simple as one might gather.

For one thing, the case of the Reverend Kimball has been reviewed several times already on a variety of board levels, including the national review board. Each time the boards have determined that Kimball is 1-A.

Kimball, a former College of San Mateo student and a one-time resident of the Peninsula, has been a minister in the church for less than a year.

He has alleged that one of the main reasons he has not been granted a 4-D classification like his bishop, the Rev. Robert Skillman, is that a clerk at the draft board in San Mateo has made it her business to withhold some of his mailed-in data from the eyes of the draft board members.

Kimball has also claimed that the reason for the clerk's alleged actions is that she has had a grudge against him for many years, dating back to his college days when he wrote a paper about her and the board office which exposed practices which, he said, were unethical.

Officials at the draft board have denied any wrongdoing in the case and one of the draft bord members has remarked that the reason Kimball has not received a 4-D rating like Skillman's is that Kimball's preparation and his own individual situation do not warrant such a classification.

Besides, it has been explained, Skillman attained his 4-D from draft board 57 and Kimball has been working with board 58. Both boards, however, use the same facilities and the same clerical help, but they don't have access to each other's cases unless such a move is requested by the individual young man.

It has only recently been brought to light that Kimball and Skillman have similar grounds for their deferment requests and that Skillman, who bills himself as "The youngest bishop in the U.S.," may have set a precedent for future clergymen from the religion.

Donald Bogie, a member of board 58, talked about the concept of precedence last week and noted that, "You can't go on precedence alone. It's a matter of individual preparation. You can only judge on the preparation."

Concering the religion itself,

Expansion Plans Of United Told

A $160 million expansion of the engineering and maintenance base which United Air Lines operates here was announced yesterday by G. E. Keck, president.

The company's $44 million maintenance installation near San Francisco International Airport will be enlarged to accommodate United's growing subsonic jet fleet and future supersonic aircraft, Keck said.

He estimated $100 million will be expended for construction, tooling and equipment by the end of 1971. This will be followed by further expansion totaling $25 million in 1972-75 and $35 million in 1976-80.

Keck said the company also planned other expansion programs in the Bay Area.

"Excluding the maintenance base, our capital investment at communities in the Bay Area now amounts to approximately $23 million," he said. "Projects now planned will require an ad-

Liberty Decides To Stay

Dick Liberty, a member of the San Bruno Parks and Recreation Commission for two years, who levied "politics" charge against the commission chairman, has agreed to remain on the body after offering his resignation last week.

At the request of both city council and the commission last week, Liberty agreed to stay.

Meeting last Monday, members of the city council had agreed to act as "peacemakers" in the rift between Liberty and Commission Chairman Anthony governale.

Liberty had charged in a letter to all commissioners and councilmen that Governale, who was elected chairman on May 2, was participating in "an ill-conceived and cynical scheme" to use his commission office as a "platform from which to run for the council."

In the letter, he offered to resign.

At a joint meeting of the council and the commission Tuesday night, all council members urged Liberty not to quit his post.

It was pointed out that Liberty had not actually resigned. Since he was appointed by the city council to the commission he was required to petition that body for acceptance of his resignation request.

Liberty merely stated to individuals, not the full council, he was resigning because he disagreed with alleged attempts of other members of the appointive body "to control deliberations for the eventual political benefit of one of the members."

All viewpoints in the matter were heard at the meeting.

Liberty said later that he told councilmen that he would remain on the commission "if the recreation commission would make the same request" that he not quit.

Following the joint council-commission session, the recreation body conducted its own meeting, without Liberty, and voted to request Liberty not resign.

in a counter move to overthrow the council ruling.

Meanwhile, Polonsky began drafting a new ordinance to regulate cable Television systems in the city.

New Planner On the Job At Daly City

A Los Angeles County Planner, John Walker, has been named Daly City planner, City Manager Edward Frank announced.

Walker, 45, started his new job today.

He fills the post formerly held by Edward Lawson, who is now with the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The new Daly City planner had been employed for the past ten years as associate regional planner for the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission.

Walker graduated from Hastings College, Neb., in 1949, and has completed three years of graduate study for his Ph.D. at Claremont College in government and history, Frank said.

In addition, Walker has taught courses in government at California State College at Los Angeles for the past eight years.

Pacifica C.C. Installation Set June 29

Pacifica Chamber of Commerce officials today announced a number of changes in the installation dinner program scheduled June 29.

Stanley vander Hule, chairman of the installation dinner committee, said the banquet will be held at Nick's Rockaway Restaurant, instead of the new restaurant across the street.

The change was necessary because of a delay in completion of the new restaurant, vander Hule said.

The dinner price has also been changed from $10 per person to $7.50, he said, and refunds will be mailed to those who have reserved $10 tickets.

Former Chamber of Commerce manager Bernie Lake and his wife will be guests of honor at the banquet, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

ditional investment of $35 million by the close of 1971."

Keck pointed out that the expansion program will greatly increase United's employment needs. The company now employs 12,000 in the Bay Area, with an annual payroll of $108 million.

"We expect a combined personnel total of about 24,000 for San Francisco, Oakland, and San Jose by 1975," he said. "Based on current dollar, the yearly payroll will amount to some $216 million. The forecast for 1980 is 32,000 employes and a payroll of $288 million."

The expansion of United's engineering and maintenance base, already the largest facility of its kind in the world, calls for a near-doubling of employment there by 1975 to more than 13,000 workers.

An additional 5,000 employes will bring the base work force to 18,000 by 1980.

Steel Film On Competition

The luncheon meeting will be held at the New Southern Restaurant.

A Minister's Draft Dilemma

Skillman, a 1963 graduate of CSM and a former student at San Bruno's Capuchino High School, stated last week that his faith is recognized by the state and is "about to be accepted into the Syrian portion of the Greek Orthodox Church."

That latter assertion was flatly denied on Monday by Father Gregory O'Fiesch, pastor of St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church in San Francisco.

Father O'Fiesch, through whom all such requests for merger must pass in the Bay Area, said that, "I have never heard of such a request. I just recently spent a lot of time with our bishop and he would surely have referred the matter to me at that time.

"Let's face it, mergers aren't that easy anyway. Look at ourselves and the Catholic faith. We are about as close as you can get but we aren't merged. This whole thing sounds like its for the birds to me."

Another spokesman for the Greek Orthodox faith in San Francisco explained that, "Anyone can start his own religion if they can just prove a couple of things to the state. To be recognized by the state is really not that important. These fellows might be playing games here."

He added that, "We haven't heard anything about them until now."

Skillman, who explained that Kimball became a "convert" to the religion during a period of intense psychic distress at San Francisco State College, has said that his church appeals mainly to the young on college campuses. He guessed that the church has about 3,000 members and that its assets are about $30,000.

He added that, after several months of theological training under his own tutelage, Kimball was ordained a minister of the faith and became a vice president in the church corporation last November.

Skillman also works under the name of the "Prophet Saoshyant" and has published a small books of his poems. Kimball, who claims in the book's preface that he has known and worked with the prophet for "over four years," has termed Skillman "A prophet of the Most High as were Elijah, Daniel, Amos or any other seer of old."

He also notes that, "Miracles are a common occurrence wherever the prophet goes, and hundreds are hearing of his ministry each week."

Kimball is scheduled to be inducted into the army on June 20 but has said that he will not report at the board's offices on Palm Avenue in San Mateo.

Instead, he said he plans to fight the induction order in the courts.

115-Room Motel OK'd Near Airport

South San Francisco planning commissioners approved a use permit for a new 115-room motel off Airport Boulevard this week.

The use permit was granted after Royal Inns of America, Inc., submitted plans for the five-story motel, restaurant and cocktail lounge to be constructed near the intersection of Wondercolor Lane and South Airport on a site which is presently vacant.

Planner Daniel Pass had earlier recommended approval of the use permit on grounds the new facility will "help the city and San Francisco International Airport meet a pressing need for motel and guest rooms."

The new facility will be located a short distance from the present Holiday Inn Motel.

Coast's July 4 Activities Are Revealed

Pacifica civic leaders have scheduled a wide range of recreational activities for the city's "Old Fashioned Independence Day Celebration" July 4 at Terra Nova High School.

A joint effort by the Lions' Club, Rotary, Pacifica Youth Association, Boy Scouts and Chamber of Commerce, the community celebration will include competitive softball, sack racing, swimming and soccer, and a fire arms demonstration by the police department.

The swimming pool will be open to the public 1 p.m. until 5 p.m., C of C president Bernie Cohn said, and picnic grounds will be available.

Pacifica police said Naylor has no arrest record in that city and they have no information on the subject.

He resided at 63 Montecito with his wife and small daughter.

Naylor was arrested Monday near the home of his parents in the Sunset District, and reportedly broke into tears when the police took him away.

San Francisco police declined to discuss the suspect's background, except to say that he had "only a very minor" arrest record.

Cattleman Heads D.C. Cow Palace

The emphasis is being returned to the cow at Daly City's huge Cow Palace.

Appointment of a new secretary-manager, livestock grower George W. Streathearn, 41, was announced Tuesday.

The action marked departure from policies followed by Edward Diran, manager for five years in which livestock received less attention than other spectator attractions at the vast auditorium.

Streathearn said he intends to give priority to the livestock exhibition, although efforts will be made to attract all types of events to the 16,500-seat Cow Palace.

"With the completion of our multi-million dollar renovation and expansion program at the Cow Palace, we felt the time was right to select a permanent secretary-manager," says Brucato. "And, after a long and extensive search, our Board is extremely pleased with its selection of Strathearn and feels that he will e a great asset to the Cow Palace and to the entire civic and business community of the Bay Area."

Strathearn has been active as a ten-year director on the Madera County Fair Board, three times as president, and as a two-time president of the Chowchilla Uninn High School Board of Trustees.

A two-term president of the Madera County Cattlemen's Association and a former member of its Board of Directors, Strathearn is presently the vice president and a member of the Legislative Committee of the California Cattlemen's Association. He had previously served on the State Executive Committee and as state membership chairman for this organization.

He is one of the first commercial cattlemen to serve on the Board of Directors of the California Hereford Association.

The new secretary-manager has done extensive livestock judging at shows throughout the West and was honored as the official judge for the 1966 Liveutock Judges Conference at Fresno State College. He has served as a panelist on several national livestock judging evaluation conferences.

A former Madera County "Livestock Man of the Year," he has been living in Chowchilla with his wife and three children. The family will move to the Bay Area when he assumes his new duties, July 1.

Other Madera County activities with which Strathearn is affiliated include the Chowchilla High School Agriculture Advisory Council and the Chowchilla Lions Club. He was one of the organizers of the Chowchilla Western Stampede, a roping event which has grown to be the largest of its kind in the United States.

Strathearn attended OccidentalCollege for one year prior to enlisting in the U.S. Navy near the end of World War II. Following his discharge, he attended California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo, where he received his B.S. degree in 1950.

At Cal Poly, he was vice president of the Student Body, was a member of Gamma Pi Delta, honorary agriculture fraternity, and was placed on the President's Honor Roll at graduation.

After graduation, Strathearn entered the commercial cattle field with his father and uncles in Kern County.

Teaching Of Slow Readers At Capuchino

"Like reading, man — you know, it ain't so bad!"

To many reading teachers such a student comment might seem to be a discouragingly lukewarm reaction to their efforts, but to Dr. Daniel Fader, University of Michigan reading authority, it spells success.

Dr. Fader, author of "Hooked on Books" and the follow-up "Hooked on Books: Program and Proof," has been working during the past several years at the Maxey Training School for Boys near Detroit, using unorthodox materials and methods to develop an interest in reading among high school dropouts and youthful law offenders.

Dr. Fader will discuss his work with delinquent non-readers at a session of the NDEA Institute for Advanced Study in Secondary Reading next Monday afternoon at Capuchino High School. The meeting, to be held at 1:00 in the Capuchino auditorium, is open to the general public.

The NDEA Institute, co-sponsored by the College of Notre Dame and the San Mateo Union High School District, is a six-week program, which got underway this week, for teachers, supervisors, and principals concerned with the development of reading programs in secondary schools

Thirty high school educators are working in the institute, including representatives from the network of school districts across the country which are participating in the U.S. Office of Education ES 70s (Educational Systems for the 1970's) program.

The daily sessions include lectures, discussions, films, demonstrations with SMUHSD summer students, and practice in teaching situations.

quarry sites in the county, Warren Lindquist, a representative of the group during talks last year, told The Times a huge conveyor belt would be installed between a San Bruno Mountain fill source site and a loading dock off Sierra Point.

Since this disclosure last May, the Sanitary Land Fill Company, responsible for disposing of garbage at the Sierra Point dumping grounds, has completed filling operations on a small diked area adjacent to the 105 acre dump.

In order for the belt to be installed an "air easement" would be necessary from both the city and the State Division of Highways. The belt would apparently have to pass over the Bayshore Freeway.

However, the resolution prevents installation of the conveyor over any city-owned property. The only other route the belt might follow would be "excessive" a Westbay spokesman explained last year.

Westbay has promised that any excavating done on the mountain would preserve the ridge line and could not be seen from below.

But conservationists and many townspeople contend any alteration of the mountain top would change the weather, in addition to the beauty of the mountain.

They also expressed the fear that the digging in the mountain area would blanket the town in dust. During hearings on this matter, Westbay said the dust problem from both the belt and site itself would be minimal and measures would be taken to insure against this.

owned park or landscaped area would be easier than if it were owned by a subdivider.

A school district spokesman said room for expansion had been provided. without utilization of the front parcels, and that no use had been planned for the lots in front.

Councilman Frank Mammini wondered if O'Conner's landscape-now-build-later theory would defeat the residents' purpose — that is, their desire to have landscaped open space and a school not "buried" by buildings.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli said the issue had not been resolved sufficiently for the council to take action on an appeal by the school district, which has applied for rezoning of the undeveloped property for subdivision purposes.

The Westborough association, prior to the "compromise," had been standing firm on its demand the school district, which says it needs the money from the sale of the lots, not sell any of the land.

The district, even if it agreed finally to the seven-to-four ratio doesn't want a thing to do with the maintenance of the open area, which would amount to two lots on each side of the existing 80-foot wide driveway.

Maintenance, then, would become the city's responsibility.

The municipal planning commission wants none of the property sold.

S.F. State Freshman Is Bruno Queen

An 18-year-old San Francisco State College freshman, Deborah Henley, Wednesday won the title of "Miss San Bruno, 1968."

First runner-up was Mary Clarkson, 18, who will be graduated tonight from Crestmoor High School.

Angela Rodriquez, 17, born in Puerto Rico and a San Bruno resident for three years, was third runner-up. She will be a Crestmoor High senior next year.

The selection of three judges was announced at the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce's "Pageant and Progress" dinner at the Lazy V Restaurant, attended by over 75 members and guests of the chamber.

The winning beauty, a native of San Mateo, who has lived in San Bruno 14 years, is a Capuchino High School graduate. She is majoring in drama, minoring in speech at San Francisco State. She is 5 feet, 7 inches tall, weighs 117 and is 35-25-35.

Judges for the pageant were Sal Lima, a past executive director of the Miss San Francisco contest; Barbara Sams, Miss San Mateo County of 1967, and Frank Christ, who has previously judged both San Bruno and Belmont contests.

Assisting pageant director Stan Vander Hule were Mrs. Marilyn Miller, Miss San Bruno of 1960; Mrs. Carol Farr, Miss San Bruno '63; and Miss Perinny Merrill, all of whom helped narrate the program.

Milton Martin, Resource Opportunity Teacher at the Sharp Park School, Pacifica, and his photography class composed of upper grade students, have been awarded first place in the statewide California Student Film Festival.

Placing first in the division for silent films at the Junior High level, the commendation will include a trophy for the teacher and students, as well as two motion picture projectors and a supply of educational films, to be sent to the school in the name of the teacher.

The colored film, depicting the Greek legend of Icarus, was filmed by student cameramen at various sites in San Mateo County, especially the Pacifica coastline which adequately resembled the Greek islands of ancient age, and at the Pulgas Water Temple.

The film is now being viewed by interested educational film producers in southern California.

BEAUTY MEET

The Pacifica Beautification Committee will meet Wednesday night in the City Council Chambers at City Hall, Chairman Wally Sharp announced today. The meeting will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Firemen Dodge Rifle Bullets

San Bruno firemen dodged exploding rifle bullets while battling a stubborn garage fire of undetermined origin in the city Sunday night.

A small case of the military type 30-06 bullets were involved in the blaze at the home of Sidney F. Ingalsbe, 700 Hensley Avenue, along with miscellaneous camping equipment, according to a fire department spokesman.

Estimated damage to the garage and contents was not expected to exceed $1,000, the spokesman said.

When fire units arrived at the scene the bullets were "popping off" and sending fragments into surrounding walls. Normally, bullets involved in fire "burst" rather than "discharge" and fragments do not travel long distances, the spokesman pointed out.

Cause of the blaze is still under investigation.

Coast Liquor Ban Protest

Members of the Pacifica Park, Beach, and Recreation Commission have balked at a council suggestion that they reconsider a policy position prohibiting the "possession or consumption" of alcoholic beverages on the premises of city recreation property.

The policy provision was returned to the commission April 30 at the request of Councilman Daniel Modena.

Noting that the council "does, after all, have the final say," Modena entered a motion to strike the "prohibition" provision from the city's official policy Wednesday night.

However, a decision in the matter was delayed, at the request of Councilman Rick Wallis, until the June 26 meeting.

"This is a controversial matter, and the commissioners have been closer to the situation than we have," Wallis said.

He also stated that Councilwoman Grace McCarthy, who was absent Wednesday, should have an opportunity to vote on the matter.

Modena has repeatedly stated that he feels residents would derive more use from such city facilities at the Oddstad Center if the ban on liquor was lifted.

"I am certain the facilities would be used to a far greater extent for such purposes as adult dances if liquor were allowed," Modena said.

A city playground leader, David Patterson, spoke out against the councilman's position.

"You are asking for trouble," Patterson said. "There are no fences between the playgrounds and the parking lots at the recreation center, and children will be playing next to the parking areas when some of the adult functions are going on."

Under Modena's proposal, no minors would be allowed at the "adult functions," but Patterson said children would be using the playgrounds during such occasions as afternoon wedding parties.

Pre-registration at the circulation desk is desired, but not required.

LION GEORGE ALPHIN, Officer Rich Brewer, Capt. Dave Hansen of the Daly City Police Department and President-elect Jerry Galindo. The two members of the Daly City Police Department were guests of the Daly City Lions' Clubs last Wednesday at which time they discussed the importance of community relations between law enforcement agencies and members of the community. They stressed the vital part the Police Athletic League plays in solving this problem.

Dennis Urges Gun Control Leadership

Daly City Councilman Edward Dennis has written to San Mateo County Congressman Paul McCloskey urging federal leadership in gun control legislation.

Dennis said:

"The proposed 'gun control' law presently before Congress is certainly important to every law abiding citizen of our nation.

"Recently some cities are considering adopting 'gun laws,' and although their intentions are good, it certainly is useless because this is a federal government decision.

"Unless Congress passes this important legislation, the problem cannot be resolved on a local basis.

"One of the qualifications to purchase any gun should be a valid drivers license in any one of our fifty states. A drivers license is a privilege just as the possession of a gun should be. An important requisite for a drivers license is a fingerprint and a personal photo, thus, law enforcement agencies can apprehend a law violator immediately. Guns, as automobiles, in the hands of unqualified people will increase the injury and death rate steadily now and in the future.

"As our Congressman from San Mateo County, I sincerely urge you to act in the interest of a federal law in regards to this serious problem of 'gun control' ".

Vandals Smash Bruno Windows

Vandals, believed to have been juveniles, caused "hundreds of dollars" worth of damage to three Skycrest Shopping Center stores Sunday night when they smashed large plate glass windows with a barrel, rocks, and chunks of concrete.

San Bruno police said the rampage of vandalism occurred at about 10:50 p.m.

They said the Crestmoor Realty Company was the hardest hit. Seven large glass windows were shattered. Police found that a 50-gallon empty barrel apparently had been thrown through the glass.

Two windows at the dental offices of Edward Martinez were broken and one window of the veterinarian clinic at the shopping center was smashed.

In addition to the barrel, the vandals used chunks of concrete and rocks.

Parts of the contents of two trash bins were strewn about the center, with the remainder fired inside the containers.

The San Bruno fire department confined the blaze to the bins.

Bicycle and newspaper racks were knocked over.

Accident Victim Listed as Critical

A San Francisco man, Eugene Jin Hong Lee, was listed in "critical" condition in the intensive care unit by a spokesman at Mary's Help Hospital, following a 1:30 p.m. Saturday accident at Geneva and Acacia Avenues in Day City.

Lee, of 1224 Powell Street, suffered head injuries in the crash, according to a hospital spokesman.

Daly City police said Lee was one of three persons hurt.

Others were Alberta Chapman of 660 Hanover Street, Daly City, and John Francis Coe of 20 Costa Street, San Francisco, both of whom were treated for cuts and not admitted to the hospital.

Police said the eastbound Chapman car struck the rear of the Lee vehicle in the Geneva-Acacia intersection. Lee's car then slammed into a parked car, registered to Daisy Egipciaco of 606 South Hill, Daly City, on the north side of Geneva.

A few minutes earlier, at 1:45 p.m., on the Thornton Beach access road in western Daly City, James D. Cooper suffered minor injuries when his motorcycle left the roadway and he fell off.

Police said Cooper, of 1723 Noe Street, San Francisco, was southwest-bound on the road, about 600 feet southwest of Skyline Boulevard.

Cooper was treated at Mary's Help Hospital for lacerations and was not admitted.

Stolen Car Recovered

A car stolen out of Burlingame, assertedly driven by four youths, was recovered by Daly City police Wednesday after the auto damaged two parked cars and shrubbery.

The youths were not apprehended.

Daly City police said the juveniles were backing the stolen car west on San Miguel when it struck an auto at 65 Perita.

Driverless, the car — reported stolen from a Sandra Wilkerson of Burlingame — rolled east on San Miguel, smashing into another car and crashing through shrubbery at 90 and 94 San Miguel, police said.

New Manager Is Named At Brisbane

Brisbane councilmen hired a temporary manager to replace Lanier Brady, fired Monday night, and retained David Friedenberg of Daly City to replace fired City Attorney John Sherman at a special council meeting last Thursday.

Bruce A. Altman, former manager for the city of Newark in Alameda County, has assumed the manager's post on a temporary basis, according to Councilman E. A. Schwenderlauf.

Both appointments were effective immediately, city officials said, and Altman assumed his duties Friday.

Schwenderlauf said the city has received several applications for the city engineer's post vacated Monday with the firing of Clark Kirker, and an appointment to that position will be made soon.

Deputy Sheriff Willam Moran will serve as police chief for another week, under terms of the city's agreement with Sheriff Earl Whitmore.

The agreement required that the city give 14 days notice in the event the contract was terminated.

9TH INFANTRY

U.S. ARMY, Vietnam — Army Specialist Four John L. Hanmore, 21, son of Mrs. Rose L. Carse, 363 Dolories Way, South San Francisco, was assigned May 22 to the Ninth Infantry Division in Vietnam as an equipment operator.

'We Need Christmas' Now

Using a theme unusual for this time of the year, the adult choir of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church will present the worship service on Sunday at 10 a.m.

In the absence of the pastor, departments of the church are assuming responsibilities for the conduct of summer-vacation services.

Under the direction of choirmaster David Frankeberger, the choir's program will emphasize the Christmas story.

With a morning message entitled "We Need Christmas Now-", the choir will integrate a service of scriptue andmusic, relating the timelessness of the Christmas Story.

Ken Gillespie, choir member and church elder, will deliver the sermon. "We are not attempting to hasten the Christmas season in its usual sense," said Gillespie, "but the events of recent weeks indicate a need for us all to feel the inspiration, calm, and ultimate joy that are related to Christmas."

He added, "Christmas in June may seem odd, but the meaning to Christians as reflected by the universal sense of brotherhood that somehow arrives in the latter months of the year needs emphasis now; right now, and it cannot be bound by the calendar if it is to have elevance."

The choir, in addition to creating background to scriptural Christmas references, will sing the anthem "Go Not Far From Me," by Zingarelli.

Altho soloist Dorothy Spratt will sing the offertory "Come To the Waters," by Handel.

The well-known choral benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," by Lutkin, will conclude the Choir Sunday worship service.

A farewell also will be made to organist James Whitlow, who has served at Broadmoor Presbyterian for several years. His place at the console of the Margaret Pauline Brown Memorial Organ will be taken by Carl Eagle, currently serving a Peninsula church.

Following Sunday's service, a friendly coffee time, sponsored by the deacons of the 875h Street Church will be held.

Services are at 10 a.m. during the summer season, with Sunday School and infant care provided.

The Rev. Herbert Tweedie will return to preach the June 30 service.

Gospel Team At Westlake On Sunday

The Family Fellowship Gospel Hour of the Westside Baptist Church, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard, (Fairmont) Pacifica will feature Sunday the Gospel Team of the Vancouver Bible Institute, North Surrey, British Columbia, Canada.

Throughout the summer months this team has been engaged in deputation work for the Institute in the Western States and in British Columbia, Canada. Vancouver Bible Institute recently was granted the right of granting the Th. B. and the Bachelor of Religious Education degrees by the Education Board of British Columbia.

The group will present a musical program, bring words of personal testimony; tell something of Vancouver Bible Institute. The Rev. A. Dahlman, acting president of the school, will give the message of the evening.

Sunday afternoon, the Northern California Baptist Conference Junior Co-Ed camp will open at Koinonia Campgrounds, at Watsonville. Those from Westside Baptist Church attending will be Misses Kathy Brumfield, Linda McLean, and John Quinn.

"God's Law of Supply and Demand" is the sermon topic chosen by Pastor A. David Donnelly for the 11 morning worship hour message, June 23. Special music at this service will be provided by the Mixed Quartette, Mr. and Mrs. Bill DeLung and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson.

During the adult worship hour, a Primary Chruch service is to be conducted for boys and girls, four through seven years of age by Mr. and Mrs. Anderson. A nursery is also provided for babies and toddlers.

Guest Pastor For Westlake Church Rites

Dr. Gerald Pedersen, Lutheran campus ministry pastor at San Francisco State College, will speak at Westlake Lutheran Church, 222 Avalon Drive, Sunday.

Dr. Pedersen will speak at both 9:15 a.m. and 11 a.m. services.

The Rev. Thomas J. Unmacht, pastor of Westlake Lutheran, will officiate at both services

Dr. Pedersen also will lead a discussion forum for youth and adults at 10 a.m., in the church narthex.

"The Christian Attitude Toward Revolution" is the topic of his address.

Dr. Pedersen has been a parish pastor, campus pastor at Portland State College, and a missionary in Africa. He has been here for one year.

Pastor Unmacht and Dr. Dan Love, a member of Westlake Lutheran, are members of the Lutheran Campus Council of San Francisco, the governing body of the campus ministry.

Rock Injures Colma Man

A 63-year-old Colma man was in Mary's Help Hospital today with a severely injured left eye and facial fractures suffered when he was hit with a rock Friday thrown by a youth whom he allegedly threatened with a knife, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Hospitalized after an altercation at a Colma nursery was Ambrose Villahermosa, of East Market Street, Colma.

According to deputies, Villahermosa had apparently been drinking and knocked over a box of daisies at the nursery at the end of East Market Street.

The nursery owner called his son, Richard David Delfino, 21, of 542 Baden Avenue, South San Francisco, who was at the ranch painting a motorcycle, for help.

After Delfino talked to Villahermosa he reported Villahermosa came to his father's house, knocked on the door and pulled it open. He said Villahermosa pointed a large knife at him and threatened, "If you want trouble, I'll give it to you."

Delfino jumped from the porch, picked up two rocks and threw them at the older man. One, he told deputies, struck the man in the face, and Villahermosa fell back into a hallway.

Man Injured In Collision

John H. Dodd, 28, of 210 Longford Drive, South San Francisco, was hurt Friday when his vehicle and one driven by Constance C. Olson, 20, of Millet's Motel, Colma, collided on El Camino Real, near Orange Avenue at 6:20 p.m. in South San Francisco.

Police said Dodd was driving north on El Camino when the southbound Olson car assertedly crossed over the center line and the two autos collided nearly head-on.

Dodd, according to police, suffered numerous facial and shoulder cuts and had fragments of glass in one eye. He was treated at Mary's Help Hospital, but not admitted.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

A QUICK AND EASY OUTLINE OF FURNITURE PERIODS

Surveys show that many persons would like to know about the major furniture periods in history, but these surveys also show that a lot of people are embarrassed to ask questions about furniture periods. So, in our next two weekly columns we will present an outline for all of you. Here's Part I.

EGYPTIAN. This is history's first home furniture we know of. It was sturdy and straight. Animal legs and the claw-foot were widely used.

GREEK AND ROMAN. The little that remains of furniture of this period shows great strength, simplicity and beauty of design.

MEDIEVAL. This period, often called Gothic, was between 500 and 1450 A.D. and reflects the great influence of the church.

ITALIAN and FRENCH RENAISSANCE. This was a 14th century declaration of freedom from authoritarianism of the Middle Ages and a return to the great classic traditions of ancient Greece.

LOUIS XIV. This period reflects the sumptuous extravagance of the king and court at that time. Nothing could be too elegant or too elaborate.

LOUIS XV. Chair legs are curved as compared with the straight legs of Louis XIV.

LOUIS XVI. This is the most beautiful and widely copied of the French periods. The tapered, fluted chair legs recall the Greek column. Next week we shall continue our history of furniture periods.

Recipes for Diabetics

Good morning, good cooks.

It has been my contention that a postage stamp is the biggest bargain around. In a world where the value of the dollar is dropping, food costs are rising and nylons still run on the first wearing, a six-cent stamp carries its message of happiness anywhere in this broad land.

And what brings forth this paean to the United States Post Office? Letters from you.

Mrs. Robert W. Cain of 163 Francisco Drive, South San Francisco, sent a most interesting letter, telling of her experiments preparing food for a diabetic.

This gal took the recipe for "Crazy Cake" and adapted it to the restricted diet. She wrote that the results are delicious.

BOB'S APPLE PUDDIN' CAKE

3 apples, peeled, finely chopped
2 eggs
4 teaspoons Sweet-n-Low (in dry or "bulk form, not liquid)
¼ cup soft margarine, or butter
1¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teas. salt
1 cup raisins

Place the three chopped apples in a mixing bowl, add the two eggs, four teaspoons sugar substitute, one-fourth cup margarine and blend well. Sift the one and one-fourth cups flour with the one teaspoon each cinnamon and baking soda and one-fourth teaspoons salt. Stir into the creamed mixture and add the one cup raisins. Blend thoroughly.

Pour into greased and floured fluted tube pan, bake in 350-degree oven 45 to 55 minutes.

Mrs. Cain wrote that since the discovery of diabetes in her family she has been on the lookout for "unsweet sweets" to keep variety and interest in the menu. If any of you good cooks are also adapting your good cooking to a diabetic, perhaps you will share your recipes, too.

SPEAKING OF SPECIAL DIETS, I had a request recently for recipes, especially desserts, that do not use eggs. In checking recipes, I find many are available.

The first makes a delicious cake and has been a favorite of mine for a long time. It came from my sister, Mrs. Sherrill Banks, of Pleasure Ridge Park, Ky.

ALASKA MINCEMEAT CAKE

1 pkg. dry mincemeat
2 cups water
1¾ cup sugar
¾ cup shortening

Place the dry mincemeat, broken in pieces in a large saucepan; add the two cups water, one and three-fourths cup sugar and three-fourths cup shortening. Bring to a rolling boil, boil three minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and cool.

3¼ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Sift together the three and one-fourth cups flour, two teaspoons soda, one teaspoon salt. Add to the cold mincemeat mixture; blend well. Stir in the one-half cup chopped nuts. Turn into a nine or ten-inch tube pan which has been well greased and floured on the bottom only. (To make sure it didn't stick I placed one layer of waxed paper on the bottom, too. But then I'm a very cautious type.)

Bake in moderate oven, (375 degrees) 60 or 78 minutes for nin-inch pan, 55 to 65 minutes for 10-inch pan.

Cool in pan about one hour before turning out. Cool thoroughly (about six hours) and sprinkle with confectioners' sugar before serving.

SCOTCH TOFFEE BARS

1-3 cup melted butter or margarine
2 cups rolled oats, quick or old-fashioned
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¼ cup ark corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla

TOPPING

1 6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces, melted
¼ cup chopped nuts

Pour the one-third cup melted butter over the two cups rolled oats, mix thoroughly. Add the one-half cup brown sugar, one-fourth cup dark corn syrup, one-half teaspoon salt and one and one-half teaspoons vanilla, blending well. Pack firmly into greased 7x11-inch pan. Bake in preheated, very hot oven (450 degrees) about 12 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

Loosen edges and turn out of pan. Spread with melted chocolate. Sprinkle with nuts. Chill. Cut into bars. Store in refrigerator. Makes about 3 dozen small bars.

OLD-FASHIONED SHORTBREAD

1 cup butter
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup sifted flour (for hands)
½cup sifted flour (for hands)

Cream the one cup of butter until soft in medium sized bowl. Sift the one-half cup of brown sugar into the butter, gradually, creaming well. Sift the two cups flour and add to the creamed mixture. Mix well. Place on floured board and knead about 10 minutes, using the one-half cup sifted flour for your hands and the board.

Press into 8-inch round cake pans and prick with fork. Bake in 300-degree oven 30 minutes. Or until golden brown.

A DELICIOUS CAKE that doesn't call for eggs is this Raisin Cake. Mrs. Marinkovich, who lives in San Francisco, gave it to me and I am happy to repeat it in this column for eggless baking.

RAISIN CAKE

1 cup raisins
1¼ cup water
1 cup sugar
1 tbsp. butter
1 tbsp. cocoa

In a saucepan combine the one cup raisins, one and one-fourth cup water, one cup sugar, one tablespoon each butter and cocoa. Blend and bring to a boil, cook until butter melts. Remove and cool.

2 cups flour
dash salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cloves
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon baking soda

Sift together the two cups flour, dash salt, one teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg, one-half teaspoon cloves and three-fourths teaspoon each baking soda and baking powder.

Blend sifted dry ingredients into the cooled raisin mixture. Pour into greased and floured loaf pan. Bake in 350-degree oven about 35 minutes.

Close Gap Through Respect

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

"RESPECT IS THE KEY to many rusted locks" and it may to the key that youth and maturity will have to turn together if the "generation gap" is to be close, according to some thoughts on the matter expressed by this week's outstanding graduate, Maryanne Regal.

In commenting on some of the complex facets of American society in 1968 Maryanne indicated she thinks the difference in values of today's young adults and their parents has caused the phenomenon commonly referred to as the "Generation Gap."

"The present trend of my generation is to be free as an individual and not fall the victim of the "society" and of materalistic things. Even though the generation gap is widely publicized, I do not feel that it is as wide as some say," Maryanne remarked.

"The difference lies in the fact that the new generation sees, reviews and evaluates, then acts accordingly to change what is wrong, whereas the past generations have merely just seen and accepted, even if they did not believe in something in its entirety.

"Today people are standing up for their beliefs even if it should mean some unpleasant consequences. This is an admirable thing unless we get carried away," she continued.

"I really can't blame past generations for their lack of action, because they did not have the education or the wealth that has been given to my age group.

"Past generations have had to work too hard to get things that I was merely born into. They didn't have the time, or the courage to fight for their beliefs because they were too busy trying to protect the little that they did have."

THOUGH MANY MILITARISTS take a fatalistic view of the situation and treat it as an insoluble amalgamation to be fought without hope of victory, Maryanne thinks that the "generation gap" can be closed by communication.

"I feel that the only way to close this gap, as such, is to discuss and listen to reason. The exchange of ideas and interpretation of what is right can only be achieved by understanding. A most important point for both generations—all generations—is respect of mankind."

In her remarks about today's problems the matter of the overt anti-social expressions of rebellion used by a portion of the "younger generation" Maryanne pointed to a lack of recognition and family unity in many homes.

"My opinion is that these kids are resorting to such actions because there is no other way in which they can prove their individual independence. Many young people act this way because they have never experienced family or community involvement, where their personal opinions and actions have been recognized. So far all they have been able to do is what was proposed to them. They have not felt self-important.

"Today they have to worry about the war, draft and politics and they find that they do not agree with the mess that has been created and they want to change it," Maryanne said.

"THE YOUTH IN AMERICA has been exposed to all the world affairs and the violence that literally plagues mankind today and they see no REASON. They see where we have to "love our neighbors now," because life is too short to waste by hating and fighting.

"The hippie philosophy, I feel, is a good one with a lot of merit except for the drugs. The drugs have become a crutch — a social [illegible]. Those who were never able to get into the groups can now become a part by taking drugs," Maryanne said.

This need to belong stems from the lack of recognition and family unity and the only reason we have all this trouble with drugs is that "these kids get from pills what they weren't given by their parents — identity and pleasure," Maryanne concluded.

Maryanne graduated from Westmoor High school last week after having completed four years of study there. Prior to Westmoor she attended Bryant school in Washington state, Noriega Home school in San Francisco, Olympia school in Daly City, Colma and Garden Village, Jefferson elementary, Daniel Webster, M. Pauline Brown and Benjamin Franklin.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Regal of Santa Paula Drive, Daly City. She moved to the area, along with her parents and brothers and sisters, David, Chuck, Roseanne and Ann, about 10 years ago from Seattle, Wash.

She has been a member of the G.A.A., the Drama Club, the Art Club, and has been a cheerleader since her sophomore year. During her senior year she was head varsity cheerleader and she received a Good Willy pin from the Good Will Industries for her part in the school's annual cloths drive.

In addition, she has been the Westmoor representative to the California Association of Student Councils for two years. She represented her school on the Emporium "Hi Board" where she was given the opportunity to work and model.

Last summer she represented Westmoor at the California Girls' State in Davis and she found time to be the school's 1967 Homecoming Queen.

Her prime interests while in high school have been literature and art and she plans to pursue her art interest by attending the Rudolph Schaeffer school of Design in San Francisco next fall in conjuntion with her studies at College of San Mateo.

AS MUCH as she is looking forward to college, Maryanne admits that she will miss a number of things now that high school is over.

"I am going to miss the whole general atmosphere of our high school, but most of all I am going to miss the teachers I've had and even the ones I didn't have, but who would smile at me as I walked down the halls," she said.

"I am going to miss being cheerleader at the rallies and games and I'll miss eating berry pie at lunch. I'll miss the ladies who work in the office. Come to think of it, I'm going to miss an awful lot," she pointed out.

One person she will miss will be her counselor, Robert Blake, whom she feels really earns the respect of his students and has been the embodiment of kindness to his charges.

For her outstanding contributions to Westmoor, Maryanne received first place in the local Elk's Club Youth Leadership Contest; a class of 1968 scholarship and a trophy for being "The Outstanding Girl in the Class of '68."

Kiwanis in South S.F. To Hear Talk on Beef

California's largest agricultural commodity, beef cattle, will be the topic of discussion at the South San Francisco Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting on June 27, at 12:00 noon.

Walter T. Rodman, manager of the California Beef Council and a veteran cattlaman, is the featured speaker and will discuss the cattle industry's position in California's economy. The meeting will be held at Oyle's Restaurant, 744 El Camino Real, South San Francisco, and according to program chairman Al Geiger, about 30 members are expected to attend.

"Recently released United States Department of Agriculture figures show Californians consume about 30 per cent more beef per year than the national average," Rodman stated, "and have led in this category for the last ten years. More important though," he continued, "is the State's role as a cattle producing center. We currently rank fifth in cattle production nationally and last year sales of cattle and calves alone accounted for $711 million, or more than 17 per cent of California's total agricultural production. I think it is important that every citizen be aware of the contribution the cattle indcstry makes to our over-all economy, and of the vital role cattlemen play in making California the most prosperous state in the Nation."

Rodman, a Woodside resident, has been manager of the Beef Council since its inception in 1967. He is currently serving as a Director of San Francisco's Cow Palace, a member of the new "Livestock Education Conference" of the new California Exposition in Sacramento.

Subsidized Bus System In Pacifica

Pacifica councilmen voted to approve specifications and call for bids on a city-subsidized bus system Wednesday, while stating in advance any proposals received would "probably be too expensive."

Councilmen voted to advertise for bids after receiving a report from Assistant City Manager James Swain on probable cost of the project.

Though Swain's estimate was not made public, council members noted that it was "prohibitive" in view of the city's prsent budgetary position.

$445 THEFT

Colma Hardware, 7340 Mission Street, Daly City, reported the theft from a desk of $445 in checks and $141 in cash, between 1 and 4 p.m. Thursday.

Swain recommended that the council call for bids on the project anyway, "on the chance that some operator will be able to envision more revenue from the system than I can foresee at present."

D.C. Teachers Win Dairy Scholarship

Two Daly City elementary school teachers have been awarded San Francisco State College scholarships by the Dairy Council of California.

They are: Mrs. Kathleen Brachna, Bayshore School; Mrs. Jean Marie Mooney, Midway Village School.

The scholarships will allow the teachers to attend a nutrition education workshop at the college tuition-free. The Daly City teachers are among 40 Bay Area elementary teachers awarded scholarships by the Dairy Council.

Dr. Margaret Basham, health educator, San Francisco State College, says the nutrition workshop, scheduled for June 17 through 21, is designed to acquaint teachers with the latest nutrition information and new methods of making the information appealing to children.

Douglas C. Fisk, Dairy Council of California manager, describes the co-sponsorship of the college course as another step in Dairy Council's continuing effort to provide teachers with sound nutrition information.

PROVERB

There is a proverb in Yemen, "It is not wise to let women or the devil wander the streets in the darkness."

Field Test For Radios

Three Daly City amateur radio operators of the California DX team, WB6QIT, will be among those to be tested on their ability to establish communications with other amateurs under emergency conditions, atop Mount Tamalpais, June 22.

The North County operators are Vern Buerg (WB6KBK), Steve Buerg (WB6THT) and Mike Cooper (WB6SJS).

The trio will use a portable gas generator to power a single low power transmitter during the 24 hour activity as part of the annual ARRL field day exercises.

FRANK LAPIERRE

(Post Columnist)

The 'Silent Heroes'

(Editor's note: Post columnist Frank LaPierre is vacationing. Substituting for him this week is Ed Tomasello, general supervisor of the Daly City Recreation Department and a member of the Jefferson Elementary School Board of Trustees.)

Recently our city laid to rest a woman many of us all knew well. I consider myself fortunate in that through my work I was able to know her better than most.

The devotion of Ann Eason toward the betterment and fulfillment of life for the children and adults of our community is truly material for legend.

Rather than list the multitude of ways in which Ann Eason helped to make Daly City a better place to live, I would prefer comment on the way she approached what she considered her responsibilities as a citizen.

First Ann Eason never answered anything but "yes" to a request for help regardless of her own interests.

Second, she never extended her efforts in the hope of reward of any type.

And last, she took on her tasks with a genuine interest and compassion that extended equally from the unborn to the senior citizen.

Her passing is a great personal loss to me, but of greater importance it is a tremendous loss to the 65,000 residents of Daly City. Many of these persons did not even know her name or the many things she did for them over her lifetime.

Her many friends know that Ann Eason was the shining example of the spirit of the silent hero that makes any community great.

Fortunately for our community there are other silent heroes that help the spirit of Ann Eason carry on the battle toward a better life.

BECAUSE OF THE VERY nature of these people who serve their neighbor with no thought of reward, I do not know all of them. Even if I did, I belive no newspaper would have space to list them all.

To mention a few I have seen helping their neighbors over the past years, I would have to recognize as silent heroes, George Pedroni, Bob Abbott, Bob Payne, John Donaldson, Clyde Silverthorne, Ed Denning—all the men that work with them in helping thousands of Daly City youngsters find fun and enjoyment in an athletic way of life.

In Scouting work, we find Al Belotz, Hilda Heagney and Jeanne Kennaugh and their many friends working for youth.

Mrs. Murray Freedman and the ladies of the Florence Crittendon Home join our group for their help in the community.

Mrs. Alice Kerekes, president of P-TA Council and all the P-TA people like Harriet O'Neil, Jean Markovich, Marvey Milton, Jane Powell and so many others who constantly work for a better life for all children.

Police Officer Richard Brewer typifies the civil servant who gives so much more to his community than required.

Mrs. William George and the Friends of the Library who constantly supplement the literaary aspect of our community.

Among the Silent Heroes are members of Operation Santa Claus of the churches and the service clubs like the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis, and the Optimists who contribute so much to our city that we seldom know about. There are Silent Heroes on our boards, commissions, and councils who fight our battles with lines extending from minority opportuity to religious understanding.

THE FINAL SILENT HERO in our community is you, the homeowner and taxpayer. You make the dreams and efforts of all the others a reality. A hero is one who believes in a cause and makes a supreme effort to develop that cause.

Ann Eason has passed her banner on to us. Let us march with our civic leaders and silent heroes towards a better life for all the people of our community.

The opportunity to help our community in the area of education is before us at the present time. There will be a tax election held on July 30.

This election has not been proposed to give an abundance of money to educators.

The Jefferson Elementary School District needs funds to simply maintrain the educational program it has offered your children. As a taxpayer, I am conscious of what this tax raise will mean to the home owner and businessman.

As a member of the board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District, I am also conscious of what the lack of these funds will mean to the educational programs in our schools.

This knowledge caused me to propose the tax election at a recent board meeting. If you, as taxpayers will weigh the eight cents a day the election will cost you against the educational program of the Jefferson Elementary School District, I am sure you will make the supreme effort.

SHOULD YOU WISH to make this comparison, a fact sheet is available to you through your school dstrict office. You need only to phone WY 2-1000, give your name and address and one will be sent to you.

Already the Silent Heroes are rallying to the cause of a better community. They are being led by Chairman Al Belotz in this effort. You would be welcome in their ranks.

Were Ann Eason here, I believe she would say of them, "They're wonderful people. They are Daly City people."

The Job Not Completed

QUESTION: I hired a contractor to do some remodeling. Before he finished the job he asked me to sign a paper so he could get some money from the bank to buy materials. He is now working on another job and will not give me any satisfaction as to when he intends to finish our house. What can I do?

ANSWER: You evidently signed a "completion slip" which the bank looks upon as being your approval of a finished job. Completion slips should never be signed until the work has been completed to your satisfaction. If you process your complaint through the regular BBB channels the Bureau will attempt to get the handyman to return and finish your job.

QUESTION: I have noticed many ads on nursery stock from out of twon nurseries. How can they advertise such bargains?

ANSWER: I recently wrote at length concerning bargain nursery stock. Unsatisfactory experiences are frequently reported to the BBB by purchasers of the "unusual at bargain prices." Take time to carefully think over the believability of sales pitches and advertising which claim that flowering shade trees will grow roof-high in one year; that two plants costing one dollar will bear eighteen thousand roses; that six climbing strawberry plants will produce hundreds of extra large sweet berries in just sixty days; that an amazing climbing vine will give you "armfuls of luscious peaches in eighty days."

It is more likely that satisfactory experiences will result from purchases made from nursery men in your own area whose reliability is known and who are familiar with the local soil and climate conditions. If complaints do develop, they will be more promtly and satisfactorily adjusted.

QUESTION: I have heard that big money can be made if you get in on the ground floor of multi-level distributorships for cosmetics, food supplements and other merchandise. Is there a catch to this?

ANSWER: There are many merchandising techniques. Where a realistic projection of distributorship earnings and actual selling of the product to the public takes place, this pyramid-type sales could be most effective. But where the merchandise is secondary to the sale of distributorships and the distributor's success depends largely on his ability to recruit lower level distributors, the technique is highly questionable.

Surprise CSM Award To Prexy Bortolazzo

An honorary associate in arts degree was conferred upon Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo Sunday in a surprise highlight of College of San Mateo's forty-sixth annual commencement.

The capacity crowd of more than 2,000 in the campus gymnasium gave the CSM president a standing ovation after the presentation was made by the head of the board of trustees, Carl E. Ward.

Dr. Bortolazzo, who came to the college in 1956 and is leaving at the end of the month to become president of San Joaquin Delta College in Stockton, quipped to the record 1,356-member graduating class:

"You're way ahead of me. It only took you two years to earn your degree here. It's taken me 12."

The surprise award followed presentation of another honorary degree by Dr. Bortolazzo to Chancellor Dean E. McHenry of University of California, Santa Cruz, featured speaker on the afternoon program.

Dr. McHenry was cited particularly for his key role in the development of the California master plan for higher education, which has made junior colleges equal partners with the university and the state colleges in the over-all state educational structure.

In his talk, Dr. McHenry praised Dr. Bortolazzo for "outstanding accomplishments" at CSM and rated the institution "among the best of all California junior colleges."

The Santa Cruz chancellor, speaking on "Liberty, Fraternity and Equality in Education," also lauded CSM for its special program to provide equal educational opportunity for black and Mexican-American students.

"People like these," he said, "have been waiting for such equality for almost 200 years."

Dr. McHenry referred, too, to "the breakdown of law and order on campus after campus." The exercise of student power, he said, must not be permitted to destroy the institutions the students seek to improve.

"Liberty," he emphasized, "is a good thing. But there must be definite limits."

Beverly Anne Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald H. Kaufman of San Mateo, was honored as the top student in the graduating class. During her two years at CSM, she compiled a near-perfect 3.93 grade average (4.0 is straight A).

Miss Kaufman has been awarded a Regents' Scholarship to University of California at Los Angeles, where she will specialize in Latin-American studies — aiming at a career in the U.S. foreign service or with the United Nations.

Her father is a veteran member of the CSM faculty.

Dr. Bortolazzo singled out four other teachers for special salutes, since they all are retiring now.

Noting that "altogether their service to this college and its students totals an incredible 129 years," he recognized Fredric A. Roehr, head of the music department, who has been at CSM since 1931; Alice W. Danielson, clothing and millinery instructor in the evening college, whose career at the college also dates back to 1931; Mildred Howard Stickney, teacher of business subjects, who came to CSM in 1935, and Miss Ainslie Harris, a CSM English teacher since 1946.

With an all-time high in number of graduates — up 16 per cent from last year's total — a college record also was set for scholarships. Fifty-six individuals and organizations contributed a total of 107 awards representing more than $19,000 to graduates, continuing students and entering freshmen.

The Characterizing Chairs

I'm Terence O'Reilly, I'm a man of renown.
If they'd let me be, I'd have Ireland free.
I'd have the United States under my thumb,
And I'd sleep in the President's chair
—Anonymous

THE PRESIDENT'S CHAIR is high-backed and leather covered with a seal imprinted thereon. Like the President's seal and his high-topped hat, it is a sort of emblem of the office he holds.

Special chairs have characterized civilization from ancient Egyptian times to the present. The Pharaohs sat in chairs that rested upon legs and feet that were carved to represent lions paws or ducks' heads. The flowers and animals pictured on his throne were symbols of his office and of the Gods of Egypt.

The great and the rich of ancient Assyria used cushioned stools with shallows dipped seats that were carved with ram heads or winged sphinxes on each side.

The sphinx was a favorite design for the chairs of ancient Greece — with his tail flying, his wings open and his human head held high, the sphinx supported the arms of the noblemen's chairs or flanked the marble seats in the temples and the theaters.

The sphinx flew across the centuries to alight on the furniture of England after the school of Robert Adam and Thomas Hope.

THE ENGLISH are the most renowned chairmakers of all time — for comfort's sake, they got rid of straight backs and flat seats. They added grace to the design of household furniture and beauty as well as comfort to the most common chairs. This information comes from a change of pace book entitled "The Chair: Its Origins, Design and Social History."

It is by John Gloag, whose contributions to the literature of architecture and social history are widely acclaimed. He has been president of the society of Architectural Historians of Great Britain. In 1958 he was awarded the Bi-Centenary Gold Medal of the Royal Society of Arts for his services to industrial design.

His book contains many drawings and illustrations which parallel the text in describing the development of the chair. Since its publication in Britain in 1964 it has been widely read and greatly appreciated. It was published in the United States in 1967.

A companion book and perhaps an even greater one is Gloag's "A Social History of Furniture Design from B.C. 1300 to A.D. 1960." The critic Paul von Khrum found it pleasantly provocative and straightforward.

An Editorial

Changing Times

The older generation always worries about the younger. But things do change.

It was only a few years ago, for instance, that Americans worried most about college students who were so apathetic about the problems of society, so eager to get a fancy job and so reluctant to be "activists."

And remember when the biggest worry about the draft was that so many young men were flunking the mental and physical tests?

WILL THOMAS

(Post City Editor)

'Green' is the Theme

A youngster living in and attending school in crowded, growing suburbia ought to know something of "beauty," and that the kids just might be served well by having a little living color in their lives to match the green of the sacred buck, a South San Francisco woman thinks.

She sounds like a country girl, though she might just accidently have hit that distant chord when she was talking recently against sale of lots that front the Foxridge Junior High School in Westborough tract of South San Francisco.

Frankly, my notes on the meeting of the South San Francisco Unified School Board and municipal aides have disappeared.

Yet, I do recall the gist of what the woman had to say, in pleading for some "breathing room" for her youngsters.

It involved a premise that there's more to education of a child than reading, writing and arithmetic; a minority view, I suppose, that the children ought, to some degree, become somewhat more conversant with natural beauty, as well as the basic brain fodder they get from educational institutions.

IN THIS DAY of the decreasing dollar value and the soaring tax bill, the intangible value of giving youngsters anything more is lost in the toil, the substance and the "dream" of getting away from it all in the future.

I'm inclined to agree, as a parent that our kids deserve a bit more than the book learning; that a youngster unexposed to natural beauty can never have the proper respect for it.

Underlying is a feeling that disrespect for property (their own and others') stems from a failure to be exposed to that which is pleasing to see — whether, in the matter of landscaping, it is a neatly trimmed blade of grass, a colorful patch of flowers or a well-tended shrub.

Judging from many homes I've seen (not a majority, but not in just a few instances, either), many a child isn't going to "learn" this aesthetic value anywhere but at school, where there ought to be well-groomed, multi-colored landscaping to enhance not only the grounds, but the students' diverse "education" as well.

But, landscaping in certain school districts is the last thing considered. It's costly! In South San Francisco, the school board thinks it's the park department's responsibility; that the school district responsibility begins with providing classrooms, teachers and texts and concludes with blacktopping of a playround.

There can be little argument that schools provide areas of play; and it's certainly not too much to expect that youngsters should be able to walk there — providing the area's generally safe to do so.

BUT, WE'RE in an era (to return to the basic point in mind) in which open space is being devoured with fervor.

Every use must be justified in terms of hard, cold cash, not of pretty, flowery things that "look nice."

Money, you see, doesn't grow on trees. Or lawns, or shrubs or colorful flowers

Some folks think I'm a "kook" who's just nuts enough to think you can fit into "reality" a little bit of the intangible "dream," though like so many officials I can't find the money either.

I suppose the next best thing to having both the green of landscaping and of the dollar bill is to have the "green" of envy for those who somehow can afford it

Violence in Films

When is violence permissable in a film?

We live in an age of violence and it can't be overlooked but directors are being criticized more and more for their overuse of it and their seemingly insensitivity to public outrage. Donald Siegel, director of Unversal's "Madigan" is known as one of the foremost violent film directors but he claims never to have overstepped the boundary of good taste.

"Violence is wrongly used when one lingers on it. I've often implied, rather than shown it because like nudity, and four letter words, the audience can become bored," he said yesterday at Trader Vic's.

The film which stars Henry Fonda and Richard Widmark was based on a novel, "The Commissioner." Filmgoers on the west coast might be confused at the terminology used in the film because it differs on the east coast.

"Fonda plays a police commissioner, the head of the New York Police Department. In San Francisco, the chief of police is the big boss and sergeants are called inspectors in New York."

SIEGEL PRAISED THE COOPERATION OF NEW YORK MAYOR LINDSAY, asserting that "no other film company has ever been able to shoot out at Fort Tryon Park or the Cloisters, but Lindsay went to bat with the board and spoke in our behalf."

His credits do show a prediliction toward violence with "The Verdict," "Night Unto Night," "The Big Steal," "Riot In Cell Block Eleven," "Crime In The Streets" and "Edge of Eternity."

"Violence is so much a part of everyday life, especially in a city like New York, we had to do some shooting in Los Angeles. In Spanish Harlem, where we tried to do some filming, a great many people don't speak English. When we came in with riot equipment it caused a lot of misunderstanding and crowds became unmanageable. About 100 little school children crowded around our cars and rocked them so severely, they could have tipped over. One slap and there would have been trouble and even the police were walking on eggs, so we had to work somewhere else."

He cited an example of censorship restriction on a violent scene from his next film, "Coogan's Bluff."

"Clint Eastwood, wearing pointed cowboy boots, kicks a man in the groin. Now it was justified because eight guys jumped him and it was a matter of self defense. The censors wouldn't pass it, so we shot it from another angle and then everything was o.k. Violence filmed with good judgment and good taste is a director's only guideline."

"CENSORS ARE MUCH MORE CONCERNED with violence than they are with sex these days."

This is the second time Fonda and Siegel have worked together, the first being "Stranger On The Run." They have the utmost respect for each other both professionally and personally.

"Fonda talked me out of smoking. He'd given up smoking seven years ago and made me pledge that I'd try. It's been a year now, I feel marvelous, never crave a cigarette and have him to thank for it."

Fairlane, led by the hot selling Torino, continued to pace Ford Division car sales in the first ten days of June. Fairlane sales were 10,552, up 18.3 per cent over the comparable period a year ago.

Sales for all Ford Division car lines in the June 1-10 period were 35,321, bringing the total sold in 1968 to 827,523, or 5.6 per cent ahead of the 1967 figure.

Truck sales for the early June selling period were 12,461, continuing the strong 1968 market performance by Ford truck dealers. To date, 285,413 trucks have been sold, a record at this point in the year. The previous high, 256,658, was achieved in 1966.

The daily sales rates for cars and trucks were 4,415 and 1,558, respectively. This compares to 7,250 cars and 1,976 trucks in the same period a year earlier.

Car sales during early June were 15,671 big Fords, 10,552 Fairlanes, 2,845 Falcons, 5,002 Mustangs and 1,251 Thunderbirds.

Chrysler-Plymouth dealers in the San Francisco region helped pace an all-time monthly national sales record for Chrysler-Plymouth Division during the month of May, according to T. P. Wynn, regional sales manager.

Wynn said that retail deliveries of Plymouth, Chrysler and Imperial cars in the San Francisco region increased 21.6 per cent during the month over May, 1967, 2,332 units compared with 1,917.

The car line registering the greatest sales gain was the Plymouth Satellite, whose sales rose from 351 units in May, 1967, to 622 this year, an increase of 77.2 per cent.

The San Francisco region is made up of the northern two-thirds of California and all of Nevada except Clark County.

The Toyota Motor Company's new line of luxurious compact sedans and station wagons is now debuting in the U.S. import car market. The new series is designed to meet federal safety standards, not merely adapted to meet them, reports Toyota Motor Distributors President Shoji Hattori.

The new Toyota Crown line incorporates every U.S. safety regulation as well as being the most luxurious automobile yet produced by Japan's No. 1 automobile manufacturer.

Safety features in the new Toyota series include: Front disc brakes with a power booster and a braking load pressure control valve, an integral body structure with impact-absorbing qualities, individual fuses for each headlight, tinted safety glass all around and an impact-absorbing perimeter frame with front and rear torque boxes.

Luxury features include individual full reclining front bucket seats, center console with storage space, complete instrumentation, individual reading lights, and a radio control operated by the rear seat occupants.

The new Toyota Crown line offers 4-speed all syncromesh transmission as standard equipment. An optional 3-speed automatic transmission with a T-bar control on the floor console will also be available very shortly. The Crown series is powered by a high-performance 6-cylinder, 115 horsepower engine.

The Toyota Crown series is being imported into the U.S. in two models — a 5-passenger, 4-door sedan, and a 7-passenger, 4-door station wagon.

Plan Two Seminars On Bay Government

Peninsula Industries, concerned over the many various proposals for a Bay Area Regional Government, have invited the general public to participate with them in a seminar on the subject, it was announced today by T. H. Showalter, president of the Peninsula Manufacturers Association.

"In order to obtain as broad a representation as possible," Showalter said, "we will sponsor twin conferences. The first will be held on June 19, at the International Inn, South San Francisco. The second, a week later, on June 26, will be conducted at the Hyatt House Hotel, Bayshore Freeway in San Jose."

The program in North San Mateo County will include Stanley McCaffrey, president, Bay Area Council, representing the Council's position, favorable to a broad-scale new government. Joseph Bodovitz, executive director of Bay Conservation and Development Commission, will explain why the board of his special purpose district wishes to be included in such a regional government.

J. D. Callaghan, chief administrative officer, Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, will represent a special purpose district that is opposed to being included in a BARO. Lee Ham, president of Wilsey & Ham, planning consultants, will present his views that are contrary to the establishment of a regional government, and will also discuss some personal aspects of the subject.

In the Southern San Mateo and Santa Clara County meeting on June 26, Jack Beckett, government relations manager of Hewlett-Packard, will replace McCaffrey in the presentation of the Bay Area Council's position.

Outspoken critic of regional government and prominent San Jose City Councilwoman, Mrs. Virginia Shaffer, will appear at the Hyatt House meeting instead of Ham.

The PMA program will begin at 11:30 with a no-host social hour, followed by luncheon. Each speaker will be limited to a twenty-minute presentation, according to John J. Murray, vice president and executive director of PMA.

A free-wheeling, open forum type question and answer period will follow until adjournment at 4 p.m.

In order to assist the Board of Directors of PMA in establishing an updated position, a comprehensive questionnaire will be disributed to all attendees of the seminar. It will seek a cross-section of opinions on such matters as desirability of a regional government, its possible scope and powers, representation to such a body, methods of financing, etc. "Results will be sent out to all seminar participants," Murray said.

Due to space limitations, it is hoped those who wish to attend will notify the PMA office, 62 Forty-first Avenue, San Mateo, or phone.

Rezoning of Site Fought

A group of Pacifica residents are "up in arms" over a proposal to rezone a portion of the Sanchez Adobe site on Linda Mar Boulevard for commercial development.

An opposition petition signed by 46 residents was submitted to the council at a public hearing on the matter Wednesday night, and a number of property owners spoke out against a planning commission decision to rezone part of the historic site for "neighborhood commercial" development.

Planning commissioners voted 4-2 to cnange the zoning of a lot adjacent to the adobe from "garden apartment" to "neighborhood commercial" at the request of James Telegan and Victor Magrin, owner of the property, at their May 26 meeting.

The owner of the property has not revealed the specific nature of planned development.

The site is located at the southwest corner of Adobe Drive and Linda Mar Boulevard.

Don Moore, one of the leaders in opposition to the zoning change, told Mayor Nick Gust and councilmen Linda Mar residents are "almost unanimous" in their opposition to commercial development of the property.

"Out of more than 50 homeowners approached in this matter, we found only two or three who were not unequivocably opposed to the planning commission decision," he said.

In approving the zoning change request, planning commissioners said last month the neighborhood commercial development would be the "highest and best use" of the property.

Councilmen delayed a decision on the matter until June 26 because of the absence of Councilwoman Grace McCarthy, who requested before leaving town this week that she have an opportunity to vote on the proposed zoning change.

BERT COLE (PART TWO)

His Baseball Recollections

(The second of a two part series on San Mateo resident and former major leaguer, Bert Cole.)

WHEN BERT COLE broke in with Detroit in 1921 Ty Cobb was 34 years old, but still had another .400-season under his belt, and still had the great will to win.

When one talks to Cole about Ty Cobb, it becomes obvious that Cole admired the Georgia Peach tremendously. He discounts the stories about Cobb's being penurious, mean and selfish.

"Cobb wasn't inherently mean or really stingy. He was just fanatical about winning. When we won, nothing was too good for us. There was steak for everybody. When we lost, he wouldn't even give you conversation.

"Ty could have been anything he wanted to be. He was intelligent, well read, real all the classics. He made a fortune on the stock market.

"He could have also been a homerun hitter. He was big and strong enough. But he actually enjoyed outsmarting rather than overpowering opponents.

"He was virtually impossible to get out with a runner on first if the firstbaseman was holding the runner. He could hit it through that little extra hole almost every time. I'll bet he hit .500 in those situations.

"Ty was a tremendous batting instructor. He held pretty much the same philosophies that Lefty O'Doul developed. Incidentally, I feel the Giants made a mistake when they discontinued Lefty as their batting coach. Check the years when Lefty was working with those kids. They had hither batting averages.

"Another thing about Cobb, he wasn't proud. When he was in a slump he'd accept advice from anyone. I remember one time he asked our batboy what the kid thought he was doing wrong. And when he was hitting, he would take no batting practice. His philosophy, if you're hitting, who needs practice.

"Of course, he was a master baserunner. Not to take anything away from Maury Wills, who you have to put in Ty's class as a base-stealer, but Wills was talking once about how he had three or four different slides. Ty had six of them!

"Cobb figured things to such a fine point that, for example, if we were playing on a field that was still damp from a previous rain — not raining, just a little damp — he would put on brand new spikes for the tiny bit of extra traction they'd give him.

"And a lot of people think that he did it all on brains and guts. Let me tell you about his speed. He was once timed — in a baseball uniform — at under 10 flat in a 100-yard sprint.

"He was often criticized for being out only for himself; like when he'd bunt for a basehit with Detroit either was ahead or way behind. The way Ty looked at it, his job was to get on base, no matter what the score; that if we were ahead, his job was to get further ahead, and that if we were behind, well, somebody had to start a rally some way.

"THE ONLY THING TY was really selfish about was winning. When I broke in, he and HARRY HEILMANN were having a helluva race for the batting title, and suddenly Harry went into a month-long slump.

"Ty had Harry off in a corner of the park every day for hours before each game trying to figure out ways to break him out of that slump, which he eventually did."

That was the year Heilmann hit .394, Cobb .389, and Heilmann took the batting title.

Bert played in an era when colorful characters were not only tolerated but appreciated; were, in fact, often encouraged.

Whatever the reasons for today's often dull sophistication in baseball — education, big business or just lack of a sense of humor — Cole's glad they didn't exist when he played, "When it was just plain fun."

He feels the Pacific Coast League of that time in general, the San Francisco baseball teams in particular, were among the most colorful of all time.

A FEW of his favorite stories follow:

WALTER MAILS, the old Seal of duster and booze pen fame (and still, of course, in baseball, with the Giants) tried one day to lodge a fastball in the ear of the Missions' fiesty second baseman, MICKEY FINN. Finn bit the dust, bounced up, and calmly completed his turn at bat, apparently having accepted the duster as a part of the normal Mails repertoire.

But when the inning ended and Finn trotted out to his position, Mails, striding off the mound, shouted at the passing Finn, "And you're gonna get the same thing next time, and I won't miss."

Finn stopped short and turned casually around to face Mails. "Pardon me, Walter," he said matter-of-factly, "What was that you just said?

"You heard me," said Mails, increasing his volume and jutting his chin out even closer to Finn's face. "I'm gonna stick it in your ear the next time, too."

"That's what I thought you said," replied Finn politely. Mickey then undoubtedly feeling that one of Mails' dusters a game was his personal quota — calmly busted Mails on the jaw, planting "the Great" on his sliding pads. Finn then leisurely trotted out to his position, hardly anyone but he and Mails — and possibly not even Mails — realizing immediately what had happened.

When Walter, red-faced, reached the dug-out, he was asked by several teammates why he had picked on Finn, who had fought four rounders. Mails threw his hands in the air and moaned, "Now you guys tell me."

Probably Cole's favorite Coast League character, though, was EDDIE MULLIGAN (who put in five years in the majors and many years as president of the California League), whom Bert considers one of the shrewdest and toughest men ever to play third base.

ONE DAY, with the bags loaded, no outs, Mulligan had a line drive hit at him. He purposely (though no ump could ever prove it) batted it down, picked it up, tagged the runner who had been on third, tagged the base to force the man from second, and threw to second baseman JOHN MONROE to force the runner going into second. Whereupon Monroe made a beautiful pivot and fired to first to nail the batter for a QUADRUPLE play

When they got to the bench Mulligan asked Monroe why he had wasted his time throwing to second when the triple play had already been completed and the inning ended when Monroe tagged econd.

Thoughtfully working through a slow motion double-take, Monroe replied, "Geez, we gave them four outs. We got one coming next inning!"

Mulligan was a very religious man and, like Branch Rickey, never said anything stronger than "Judas Priest."

One day BILL GUTHRIE, a sterotype Brooklynite, was umpiring behind the plate and called. Mulligan out on a questionable third strike. Mulligan whirled around red-necked and shouted, "Judas Priest, that was a terrible call."

Guthrie stood there for a moment, stunned, and then pointed his finger at Mulligan. "Mulligan," he said, "you wait here a minute. I may trow you outa da game."

Guthrie then trotted out to the only other umpire, PEARL CASEY.

"POILE," he said, "I think I'm gonna have ta trow dat Mulligan outa da game for cursing."

Casey was shocked. "Mulligan cursing?" he asked. "What did he say?"

"Well," said Guthrie, puzzled, "Dat's what I wanted ta ask ya. He said Judas Priest. What da hell isdat?"

Casey laughed. "That's no curse word, Bill. Eddie doesn't swear."

GUTHRIE THOUGHT for a moment, glanced back at the still infuriated Mulligan, and then said too Casey, "Well, it sure and hell ain't no compliment," whereupon he proceeded to toss Mulligan out of the game.

Pacifica Rec Has Diver Class

Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Deparment will have a mask, fin and snorkel class this summer. The ten-week course will be Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 and is for boys and girls 8 to 15 years of age. Participants must have a Red Cross beginner card or equivalent skills.

Instruction is to include use of equipment, mask, snorkel, wet suit, weight belt, spear gun, use of flotation devices, diving, breath control, abalone hunting, spear fishing and safety among divers.

The course begins June 18 and signups at the rec office.

A special swim class geared for students who are mentally or educationally retarded will start July 1. Three sessions will be given during the summer, the first July 1 and running two weeks.

A parent or responsible person must accompany the student into the water, but swimmer aides are available if parents do not wish to do so.

A new class also has been opened for tennis instruction, for boys and girls ages 8 to 15, beginning June 24 and to be at 3:30 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays.

Beginning Monday, June 17, the Terra Nova High School pool will open every day except Wedntsday from 1:30 until 4:30 p.m. Rec swim at night will be Monday nights and family night will be on Thursday.

Judo Course By S.S.F. Rec

Pre-registration for boys 8 to 16 years old for a ten-week judo instruction course is being accepted at the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department Magnolia Recreation Center.

Classes will be Monday evenings from 7 to 8:30 at the Magnolia Center, beginning June 24. Judo instruction will stress both physical and mental conditioning, participants are taught basic falling, throwing and other related techniques.

Instructor is Lou Buttitta, registered Niden, second degree black belt, who formerly taught classes in San Jose, Cupertino and South San Francisco. A small fee is charged for the series. Further information may be had at the rec and park office.

Signups For Baseball Set

The Daly City Recreation Department is now taking Team Entries for its 1968 Summer Baseball League.

This league is designed primarily for teams, participating in the Spring Leagues, that want to continue playing ball through August, however, new teams are welcome.

An attempt will be made to organize divisions: fifth, sixth and seventh grades. Teams wanting to enter this league must obtain roster forms from the recreation department. Completed roster forms, a $1 per team entry fee, and a $5 forfeit fee (if no organization bond is posted) must be turned in to the Recreation Department no later than 5 p.m., Wednesday, June 26. League play will begin July 6.

QFI Leads Colt League

The Daly City Colt Baseball League opened up with the PAL Colts beating the PAL Giants, 4-1, behind the pitching of Alan Spiter and Dave Bias.

QFI of South San Francisco beat the PAL Yankees 9-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Rich Crumpton.

The PAL Yanks upset the PAL Colts, 4 to 3, on Mike Dias' no hitter, but the game was played under protest by manager Bob Bias.

Last game of the week saw the PAL Giants beat the PAL Yankees, 6-1, as Mike Swallow pitched a two-hitter and struck out nine batters.

The Daly City Recreation Department recently announced the final results of a softball slugging contest held at Westmoor Park under the auspices of recreation leader Paul Phalen. Many long-hit balls were featured during the contest.

Taking slugging honors for the day were Ken G. Greene (first), Bob McLennan (second), Brad Kearnes and Don Thuener (third-place tie) and Gary Stoller (fourth). Tom Price walked off with a special consolation award hitting the "highest fly ball" of the day.

All-Star Game

The Daly City Recreation Department has scheduled an all-star baseball game, featuring the Fifth Grade South Division against the Fifth Grade North Division Saturday, at 12 p.m. at Marchbank Park.

Busy Month For Center In San Mateo

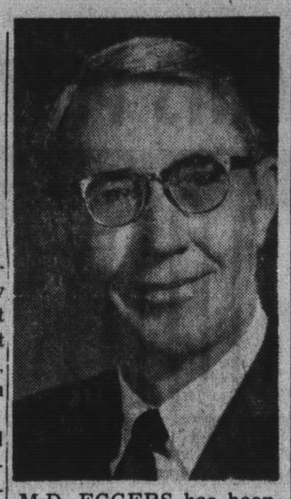
San Mateo Community Service Center, local anti-poverty program unit, had the busiest and biggest month since it opened its doors in November, 1966, reported Mrs. Velma McCrary, Center director.

A total of 121 individuals and families were served, with services ranging from providing legal aid to making loans for emergency food purchases, added Mrs. McCrary.

The three major areas of service last month were employment with 47 requests for jobs and 29 actually placed; 40 families seeking help in the processing of rent assistance applications under the new San Mateo County Housing Authority program launched May 14; and housing, with 25 families — many of them newcomers to the city — seeking apartments and homes. Other areas of service included: Health and welfare, 10; transportation, 15; financial assistance, 8; legal aid, 5, and financial counseling, 6.

Mrs. McCrary added: "This Center is demonstrating more and more, 19 months from its inception, that it is meeting the needs of the men, women and children of the target-poverty area. But we are not content just to wait and have people come and ask for our help. We are going out, as our staff did in connection with the rent assistance program, and finding people who need our help and doing something about it.

"We do not know, nor never have, curse the darkness — but work at lighting candles. This Center sees its job as that of providing jobs, housing, and hope."



M.D. EGGERS has been promoted to assistant vice president in Bank of America's San Mateo district appraisal office. He has held appraisal responsibilities in the Bay Area since 1953. Eggers and wife Louise, parents of two children, reside at 259 Jeter Street, Redwood City.

Seven Fires Started On Bruno Mt.

Despite a stern warning from the Division of Forestry, seven more grass fires had to be doused on San Bruno Mountain during the weekend.

All were deliberately set, division information officer Frank Lewis said.

Lewis issued a warning last Friday that the problem of children starting grass fires, either deliberately or accidentally while playing with matches, would not be dealt with lightly this summer.

Here's the log for the weekend:

2:21 p.m. Saturday — Spot of grass near Randolph Avenue, South San Francisco. Number 10 fire for the year on San Bruno Mountain.

3:49 p.m. Saturday — Same location. Number 11.

9:46 p.m. Saturday — Same location. Number 12.

1 a.m. Sunday —Same location. Fire number 13.

10:30 a.m. Sunday — Same. Two acres of grass. No. 14.

7:48 p.m. Sunday — Five acres near Hillside School. No. 15.

9:39 p.m. Sunday — One acre off of Hillside Boulevard. Fire Number 16.

The division had 12 other responses in other parts of the county, making it one of the busiest weekends on record.

S.S.F. School Graduates

Students of all grades recently participated in the Roger Williams School graduation ceremony in the First Baptist Church auditorium in South San Francisco.

Graduates were Stephen Bell, Sammy Goss, Janet Soules, Rene Freeman and Philip Cox. Janet and Stephen have been honor students.

Registration for the fall term is being accepted at the school office at Magnolia and Grand Avenues.

Watershed Sold For R.C. College

Sale of 203 acres of Watershed land for the site of a State College in San Mateo County was announced Monday by San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto

The land is west of Redwood City on the crest of the hills south of Edgewood Road. It was sold to the state for $2 million. Additional private property is being acquired to bring the site area up to 450 acres.

The mayor said the money would be used for construction of a $6.4 million water filtration and purification plant on Skyline Boulevard near San Bruno.

He said the land sold for the college would be cut off from the rest of the watershed by the new Junipero Serra Freeway no matter which route — along the hill ridge or the valley — is chosen.

The filtration plant is needed, he explained, because of more stringent federal standards of water purity and the increased dangers of pollution.

"It will be particularly necessary," he said, "if the state highway people keep trying to force a freeway route down our throats which would run right alongside our water reservoirs. That would create the danger of overturned gasoline and oil trucks polluting our water."

He added that the freeway route alongside the reservoirs in the southern end of the watershed would be built "over our dead bodies."

Hillsdale HS Girl Gets Top Honor

Randi Sue Lloyd, a senior at Hillsdale High School in San Mateo, has been named the outstanding student of 1968 by the California Savings and Loan League.

The annual award was presented by Mrs. John Cazian, corporate secretary of Peninsula Savings and Loan Association, at a dinner at Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco.

Miss Lloyd receives a $100 cash award and an engraved medallion on behalf of the local savings and loan institution. Peninsula Savings sponsors the annual program in co-operation with the statewide California Savings and Loan League.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Lloyd, 3921 Kingridge Drive, San Mateo, Randi Sue is active in a variety of school activities at Hillsdale High. She plans to attend the University of California at Santa Barbara, where she will major in history preparatory to a career in teaching.

The savings and loan statewide $75,000 student award program is designed to encourage students to achieve high scholastic standing and to participate in extra-curricular activities which help develop leadership.

Giving recognition to an outstanding senior in 600 California high schools the plan has been widely acclaimed by educators during its 11 years of operation.

Awards are granted irrespective of other scholarship funds or grants-in-aid won by the recipients.

Peninsula Savings, largest savings and loan association headquartered in San Mateo County, with assets of almost $90 million, has its main office at Third Avenue and El Camino Real, San Mateo.

Mateans Get Diplomas At Hayward

Degrees have been awarded to more than 1200 students in commencement exercises at California State College at Hayward. Thirty-one are from San Mateo County.

It was the college's seventh commencement and its largest graduating class. One hundred-fifteen advanced degrees were conferred.

Commencement speaker Theodore Meriam challenged the graduates to "dare to be an individual." Meriam, chairman of the board of trustees of the California State Colleges, said:

"This is so often the true mark of character—the individual will to be an individual; to think for yourself; to make your own determinations; to take a stand personally because you know it's right; to be the true you—and not somebody you really aren't, just because it's the fashion at the moment."

The San Mateo county graduates are:

Kitchen Safety Food for Thought

Planning and preparing meals for your family makes your kitchen the real center of your home. It is, also, from this area that those wonderful odors and tasty dishes come. Thus, the kitchen has a happy connotation for members of the family — even if you do collar a little help with the dishes now and then.

But a kitchen can be a dangerous place as well — especially for smaller children. But kitchens needn't be unsafe, unless people make them so. As a doctor I am aware that a good portion of home accidents happen in the kitchen. To improve your home safety batting average, let's talk about some precautions you should observe.

Burns, cuts, and poison lead the parade of kitchen hazards. Each of these risks is well-known, and their causes are almost entirely preventable. But safety is almost a way of life for some people while others go on being accident-prome — a characteristic often understandably irritating to those closest to you. Reasonable safety precaution is, then, in my opinion, not only the intelligent thing to practice but one of the best ways an individual can demonstrate consideration for others.

The most obvious sources of burns in the kitchen are, of course, your stove, your oven, or cooking surfaces — plus all the hot things you have to handle, such as implements, lids, pots and pans, and hot foods themselves. Electric appliances are next. They are not only sources of heat, but being electrical there is the built-in hazard of possible shock and, particularly, worn or imperfect electric cords. Electric sockets, too, need respect, especially as a potential source of trouble if you insist on yanking electric cords from the socket while holding the cord rather than the plug itelf.

Hot grease will catch fire, and this you are very aware of. But how often do you clean the vents of your stove or the hood over it? Or your kitchen exhaust fan? These get clogged with grease and will produce one tremendous blaze if they ever get going. If grease does start to burn, remember throwing water on it only spreads the fire. Baking soda or salt will extinquish a small blaze. But you really should have a fire extinguisher in your kitchen.

Do you keep your hand off the water faucet when you have a connected electric appliance in your hand? Do you wear suitable clothes in the kitchen so that loose sleeves and other parts of your apparel won't get caught in appliances or catch fire? Do you remember not to lay electric carving tools down without disconnecting them? Children can slip on spilled food or grease.

You have read enough times about insecticides, or bleaches, being kept in the kitchen, and then being mistakenly used in or near food.

Such "harmless" household products as a bottle of furniture polish, a box of aspirin, or a can of drain cleaner, left within the reach of small children, can result in a serious, if not fatal, accident. Also appliances and cutting tools within their reach invite disaster.

Your kitchen needn't be unsafe, unless you make it so.

How Long Egg Will Stay Fresh Depends on Care

How long an egg will stay fresh — that is of high quality — in the home depends upon the care it receives.

The widespread commercial use of shell treatment by oiling the eggs has extended the storage life of eggs in the home refrigerator. This process seals the eggs and retards loss of carbon dioxide.

At temperatures of 45-55 degrees F., eggs retain their inherent high quality for several weeks. However, even under refrigeration eggs slowly lose carbon dioxide which enlarges the size of the air cell and causes the yolk to flatten, the white to spread, the flavor to become mild or alkaline.

Eggs should be transferred as quickly as possible from store refrigeration to home refrigeration when they are purchased. Eggs kept at 72-80 degrees F. (room temperature) will lose more quality in one day than they will lose in one week under refrigeration.

The carton in which they are purchased is an excellent refrigerator container for eggs. It keeps the eggs covered, which reduces the loss of carbon dioxide and moisture. The egg carton also holds them in the preferred position, which is with the large ends up. This helps keep the yolks centered.

Many homemakers who use recipes that call for yolks or whites are at a loss as how to store the "other half of the egg."

Leftover whites and yolks can be stored in covered containers in the refrigerator for a week to 10 days. Unbroken yolks can also be hard-cooked and stored for 4 to 5 days, covered. The yolks can be used for garnish or used in sandwiches, salads and soups.

Although eggs can be stored for quite some time, the homemaker will probably be most satisfied with her eggs if she buys only enough for a one week period.

DIET ON A BAKED IDAHO POTATO stuffed with goodies to make a satisfying low calorie dish that has real staying power to help keep hunger away longer.

Potatoes Included in Reducing Diet on Purpose

You bet! They're not only permitted — they're purposefully included.

A delicious baked Idaho potato, contrary to popular belief, can do a lot for a weight reducing diet. For one thing, it helps to keep the dieter happy — almost everyone loves potatoes. It also makes it easier to stick to the diet, for the "staying power" of potatoes satisfied hunger longer and makes temptation less likely.

Idaho potatoes, grown in rich volcanic soil, contribute significant amounts of vitamins, minerals and other essential elements. These nutrients are always important, but when the amount of food eaten is restricted in order to lose weight, the nutrition of a balanced diet is vital. Some experts actually count nutrients before they count calories, but whether you count calories first or second, "Calories DO Count."

To all these good reasons for eating potatoes though dieting, add the fact that potatoes are relatively low in calories. It is what you add to them, how you prepare them, or maybe how many helpings, that make potatoes fattening. That delectable baked Idaho potato is 93 calories per 3½ ounce serving, boiled or mashed with milk — only 65 calories per 3½ ounce serving. If boiled in the skin — better count 76 calories.

Let's compare these with some other foods thought of as low calorie — cottage cheese, 87½ calories per 3½ ounce. One medium bran muffin, 106. Sherbet made with water — 117 calories in ¼ pint. A medium banana, 85 calories.

When we look at some of the foods we might give in to with vows to "really starve tomorrow" we find that a five cent candy bar contains 115 calories. An average piece of pizza, 245 calories. A tablespoon of mayonnaise, 110, one ounce of cashew nuts, 164 — and little of the real food value needed to maintain health, compared to potatoes.

Encouraging Thoughts For a Dieter

A pound of excess weight contains about 3,500 calories. A half hour walk will cse up 70 calories. A moderately active 120 lb. woman 25 years of age, uses 2200 calories per day. To lose weight, she must eat less than 2200 calories each day. If she eats 1,700 calories per day she should lose 500 calories — a pound a week. 1,200 calories a day should take off two pounds each week.

A Word to the Wise

Boredom, not hunger, is what makes most would-be dieters give up. A diet that includes favorite foods and variety is more likely to succeed. Make use of the dozens of potato recipes suitable for low calorie diets to avoid monotony. Count on the superb flavor of Idaho potatoes and their exceptional cooking qualities to make every version an enjoyable asset to a reducing menu.

Happiness is a 430 Calorie Dinner

A dieter could hardly feel deprived facing a good sized stuffed baked potato, filled with luscious sour cream, broiled chicken livers and mushrooms. It looks like 1,000 calories although by actual count it's less than a third of that number.

Stuffed Idaho Potato

4 6-ounce Idaho potatoes
½ pound chicken livers, cut up
½ cup dairy sour cream
3 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 4-ounce can mushrooms, drained

Pick potatoes of uniform size, scrub and just set right on rack. For nice crisp skins so good to eat, skip the foil or the oil. Bake at 400 degrees until tender, about one hour. Broil chicken livers. Combine sour cream and instand minced onions. Cut lengthwise slice off top of each potato. Remove contents and rice or mash well. Fold in sour cream mixture. Add broiled livers and mushrooms. Spoon filling lightly into potato shells. Sprinkle with paprika. Return to 400 degree oven until heated through and lightly browned. Serves four. 311 calories per serving.

THIS IS THE KIND of man-style eating a weary husband likes to come home to. Hearty Truck driver's chops 'n' beans is super-easy for you to prepare, too.

A Truck Driver's Chops and Beans

We call this easy skillet dish Truck Driver's Chops 'n' Beans because the name so aptly describes a hearty meal fit for a man who's been lifting, hauling and fighting traffic all day.

The satisfying combo of meaty pork chops and ribstickin' beans means equally pleasing eating to the man who's been "fighting" adding machines or staff meeting all day, too.

Because you work hard, too, you'll be doubly appreciative of this easy-to-cook main dish. Simmer browned pork chops in canned tomato sauce with cheese along with some onion, green pepper and garlic.

You'll like the way canned tomato sauce with cheese seasons meat dishes with subtle Italian herbs and mellow Romano cheese as well as the naturally good taste of sun-ripened tomatoes. Dump in two kinds of beans (kidney and lima) and cook slowly until dinner time.

The dish holds nicely, too, in the event hubby or the kids are late for supper. Serve the pork chops and beans with French bread, lettuce wedges with a choice of dressings and chocolate cream pie for dessert.

TRUCK DRIVER'S CHOPS 'N BEANS

6 lion pork chops (about ½-inch thick), trimmed
2 tablespoons pure vegetable oil
1 small onion, chopped
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce with cheese
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon sage
¼ teaspoon salt
1 can (15½ ounces) red kidney beans, drained
1 package (10 ounces) frozen baby lima beans

In large skillet brown chops in oil; remove from skillet. Add onion, green pepper and garlic; cook until tender. Pour off fat. Stir in tomato sauce with cheese, brown sugar, vinegar, sage and salt. Add pork chops; simmer, covered, 30 minutes. Stir in beans; simmer, covered, 20 minutes more. Makes 6 servings.

VAL'S RUGELACH

¼ pound, 1 stick, butter, soft
1 package, 4 ounces, creom cheese, soft
¼ cup sugar
1 large egg
1½ cups unsifted regular flour, stir to aerate before measuring
Nut Filling. See below

In medium mixing bowl with electric beater blend together the butter, cream cheese and sugar; thoroughly beat in egg. Stir in flour until blended. Flatten dough in bowl; mark off into four portions; shape each into a ball and cover tightly with transparent plastic wrap; refrigerate to chill overnight.

Work with one portion of dough at a time and leave others refrigerated. On prepared pastry cloth with stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out the ball of dough to on exact 8-inch round; cut into eight wedges. Using a generous tablespoon of Nut Filling for each round, sprinkle a little of it over the center of each wedge; roll up each wedge from wide edge. Place seam side down and slightly apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in pre-heated 350-degree oven 30 minutes. With wide spatula remove to wire rack to cool. Store cold pastries in tightly covered tin box. Makes 32.

New Instant Blend Yeast Cuts Time Requirement in Home Baking

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Designed to cut down the time requirement in home baking is a new instant blend yeast which has been developed by Universal Foods Corporation.

Miss Bernadine Landsberg, director of the home service department of Universal Foods, pointed out that now the family can enjoy the aroma and flavor of home-baked products without having the homemaker spend the whole day in the kitchen.

"Back in grandmother's day," Miss Landsberg explains, "baking was a day-long procedure with the preparation of dough, the time allotted for rising, the baking itself, and a detailed watching of each step demanding grandmother's attention."

Today this is a completely different story. A new Red Star yeast being introduced by Universal Foods cuts baking time by one third. The new yeast used with the new short cut, "mixer method" recipes actually saves one third of the time in preparing basic breads, sweet doughs, and dinner rolls.

Under the direction of Miss Landsberg, the new method has been thoroughly tested in Universal Foods' Kitchens. A basic white bread recipe now requires only one rise as compared to the conventional two-rise method. Of course, this proves a great boon and timesaver to the young homemaker.

Universal Foods with its new instant blend yeast has developed basic recipes for rolls, breads, and sweet doughs in which it incorporates a short cut "mixer method." Here only a 20-minute rest period is required after kneading the dough in place of a regular fermentation. Along with added yeast in these recipes, the instant blend mixing using warmer water shortens total time by about one-third. Miss Landsberg said that this 20-minute time period does not apply to all recipes — only those that have been tested and checked.

The homemaker, who has had some home economics training, may wonder how this is possible. It is accomplished because the yeast is protected against varied temperatures by the flour which acts as a buffer. Second, the higher liquid temperatures get the doughs off to a faster start. Third, a faster start expedites the whole process, particularly if a warm rising place is used. For example, one young homemaker found that she was able to prepare three dozen clover leaf rolls in less than two hours.

Here are three recipes which can be followed with the new yeast:

INSTANT BLEND CRESCENT ROLLS

4½ to 5 cups all-purpose flour
2 packages Red Star Instant Blend Dry Yeast
1 cup milk
½ cup water
¼ cup shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoon salt
1 egg, room temperature

1. Measure 1¾ cups of the flour and add yeast to the large mixer bowl. Blend.

2. Measure milk, water, shortening, sugar, and salt into pan. Blend. Heat at low temperature to warm.

3. Pour warmed mixture into mixer bowl, then add egg. Beat at low speed ½ minute, scraping bowl constantly.

4. Beat three minutes at high speed. Stop mixer.

5. Using spoon, add more flour a little at a time to form a soft, rather sticky dough. You may not need all the flour. Knead five to ten minutes on lightly floured board until dough is smooth.

6. Cover dough with bowl. Let rest on board 20 minutes.

7. Grease baking sheets or pans.

8. Shape.

9. Let rise in warm place 30 to 45 minutes or until doubled.

10. Bake 10 to 15 minutes in preheated 425-degree oven. Cool on racks.

Roll ¼ dough to a nine-inch circle. Cut into eight pie-shaped pieces. Roll each piece of dough from wide side toward point, stretching as it is rolled. Place on baking sheet and curve ends.

MIXER METHOD STREUSEL COFFEE CAKE (Makes two large or (Four smaller cakes)

Use basic recipe for Sweet Dough. Prepare streusel: Mix to small crumbs ½-cup butter, ½-cup flour, 1-cup sugar, 2 teaspoons cinnamon.

1. After dough has rested 20 minutes, roll or pat half of dough about ½-inch thick to fit greased 9x13x2-inch pan. Press rest of dough into two eight-or nine-inch layer pans. Top cakes with streusel.

2. Cover with tent and let rise over hot water until doubled—30 to 45 minutes. Dent remains when finger is pressed gently on side of dough.

3. Bake 25 to 35 minutes in preheated 375-degree (quick moderate) oven. Remove from pans and cool on racks.

MIXER METHOD DATE-FILLED COFFEE CAKES (Makes four crescents)

Use basic recipe for Sweet Dough. Prepare filling: Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring often, 2 cups cut-up dates, 1 cup cut-up apple, 1 cup water, ¼-cup orange juice. Stir in ½-cup cut-up nuts. Cook to lukewarm. Grease two 12x15-inch baking sheets.

1. After dough has rested 20 minuts, divide in two parts. Roll one to a 12-inch square. Cut diagonally into two triangles. Spread each with ¼ of the filling. Roll up, starting at wide side. Place on pans, two on a sheet; curve ends.

2. Cover with tent of foil and let rise over hot water until doubled — 40 to 60 minutes. Dent remains with finger is pressed gently on side of dough.

3. Bake 25 to 35 minutes or until well-browned in preheated (moderate) 350-degree oven. Remove from pans and cool on racks. Glaze with a thin icing or sprinkle with confectioner' sugar before serving.

Miss Landsberg said that many of these recipes will be available to the homemaker in a recipe booklet to be issued late this summer. An authority on home baking, she is happy to answer any questions of a young homemaker.

Ruby Fruit Omelet For Light Meal

Something different for dessert with the trend toward lighter meals it's sometimes hard to find a really satisfying dessert to accompany holiday meals. "Ruby Fruit Omelet" offers a colorful and deliciously different finale to your dinner.

Ruby Fruit Omelet

1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cocktail
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (6 oz.) frozen pineapple-raspberry drink, thawed
4 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
¾ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon butter

Drain ¼ cup syrup from fruit cocktail and set aside. In a saucepan, combine fruit and remaining syrup with cornstarch. Stir in ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter and frozen drink. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Keep warm. Whip egg whites with remaining salt until foamy; gradually beat in sugar until stiff peaks form. Beat reserved syrup, egg yolks and baking powder until blended; fold into egg whites. Melt 1 teaspoon butter in skillet. Pour in egg mixture; cook over low heat about 10 minutes or until bottom is lightly browned. Bake in 375-degree (moderately hot) oven about 10 minutes or until top is set. Spoon a little fruit sauce on half of omelet. Fold omelet and remove to warm serving plate. Pour part of sauce on top and serve remainder in bowl. Makes five or six servings.

Gingerbread In Cupcake Tins

Bake gingerbread in cupcake tins. When cool, hollow out centers. Fill with drained canned fruit cocktail and whipped cream. Crumble gingerbread over top. Serve to dessert-loving youngsters — and grown-ups, too.

Ripe Olives in the Soup

For company dinners, serve a first course of chicken consomme. To each cup add 2 tablespoons sliced ripe olives, 1 tablespoon chopped almonds and a sprinkle of chopped parsley. An easy but glamorous idea.

Apricots Are the Newest Thing in Alaska

CAPTURE "BAKED ALASKA" in a pie! Apricot Alaska Pie, with graham cracker nut crust, is an after-dinner sensation with creamy ice coffee.

Even though no history of Baked Alaska seems to be available, it must be American because it used to be called "Alaska-Florida." (That's because of the combination of hot and cold in the same dessert.) Just to confuse us, it goes by other aliases too — including Norweigian Omelette and Omelette Souffle Surprise. But don't let the "Alaska" or "Norwegian" part fool you — it's just called that because, lady, it's cold inside.

Baked Alaska has been dubbed a "tour de force that always seems gala." True enough. But if you want to be extra gala—if you really want to send the ladies' bridge club, the school board or the civic club — here's the magic formula for the Alaska to end all Alaskas. (So far!) It's Apricot Alaska Pie with a graham cracker nut crust.

A big convenience feature of this spectacular dessert is that you can make it ahead of time, all but the meringue, and freeze it. In fact, you should freeze it, to keep the ice cream firm even when the pie is "baked." But whipping up the apricot meringue, piling it in lush billows on the pie, and browning the finished product in the oven. . . all that has to be done at the very last minute, and the pie served immediately, if you want an Alaska that's sensational. "Sensational" in this case means the crust is crisp, the ice cream firm, the meringue glazed, delicately browned and slightly warm.

Marshmallows and apricot preserves give this pie a creamier meringue topping than any plain ordinary Alaska can boast — almost a marshmallow sauce.

This particular recipe calls for graham cracker crumbs and chopped nuts for the crust, which needs no baking. But you can vary the kind of crumbs used.

Apricot Alaska Pie is a sensation served with iced coffee — especially iced coffee topped with frothy whipped cream to match the pie

APRICOT ALASKA PIE

Nut Crumb Crust:
- 1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs (14 squares)
- ¼ cup finely chopped nuts
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter, melted

Filling:
- 2 pints vanilla ice cream
- ½ cup apricot preserves
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Meringue Topping:
- 2 cups (¼ lb.) marshmallows
- 2 tablespoons apricot preserves
- 2 egg whites
- ¼ cup sugar

To prepare Crust: In a small bowl combine crumbs, nuts, sugar and butter; press mixture evenly and firmly against bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate, building up around rim. Freeze. To fill: spoon ice cream into shell; spread to edge and level top. Freeze. Mix lemon juice with preserves; spread over ice cream. Freeze. To prepare Topping: In a 1-quart sauce pan heat marshmallows and preserves over very low heat, stirring constantly, until smooth. In a mixing bowl beat eggs until frothy; gradually add sugar and beat until stiff peaks form. Fold in marshmallow mixture. Mound on top pie sealing to crust. Place pie on board. Bake in a preheated 450 degree oven 2-3 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve immediately.

CREAMY ICED COFFEE
- ¼ cup instant coffee powder
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 cups hot water
- 4 scoops vanilla ice cream
- 4 cups milk
- Sweetened whipped cream

Dissolve coffee powder and sugar in hot water; chill. In cream while gradually adding coffee mixture. Add milk. Pour into glasses and top with a dollop of whipped cream. Yield: Approx. 7 cups.

Simple Meal After a Day In the Garden

Feel bent over double after working in the yard? Or sore-kneed and kinky after weeding the flower beds?

These symptoms of gardenitis will probably give way to a hot shower. If supper is almost ready with a main dish salad refrigerating and muffins or rolls heating, the spirits lift easily.

Salad suppers are simple, a good prepare - in - advance kind of meal. If appetites are on the runaway side, serve hot soup in mugs before or along with the salad.

Ready - to - serve meats make easy work out of the salads. In the case of the frankfurter and German-style potato salad made with bacon, the potatoes cook in advance.

In the Sausage-Bean Duo summer sausage in bite-sized pieces and bologna in small strips offer contrast to two kinds of beans; pork and beans in their tomato sauce and garbanzo beans (a variety of chick-peas) which are drained.

This German-style potato salad with frankfurters is hot, and might well be served from the skillet on the porch. The sausage-bean combo is cold, with dressing poured over it just before serving.

MEIN FRANKFURTERS UND POTATO SALAD
- 1 pound frankfurters
- 6 large or 8 small potatoes
- ½ pound sliced bacon, cut in ½-inch squares
- ¼ cup vinegar
- ¼ cup water
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon celery seed
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 1 cup finely sliced celery
- ⅛ cup chopped green onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon finely cut pimiento

Cook potatoes in water to cover until tender. Remove peeling from potatoes and slice about ¼-inch thick. Brown bacon pieces lightly, reserving ¼ cup drippings. Combine bacon drippings, vinegar, water, sugar, salt, pepper, celery seed and bring to boil. Add the potato slices, bacon, celery, green onion, parsley and pimiento to the vinegar mixture. Mix lightly. Top potato salad with frankfurters. Cover tightly and cook slowly 10 minutes or until heated through. 4 to 5 servings.

SAUSAGE-BEAN DUO SALAD
- 1 pound sliced summer sausage, cut in bite-sized pieces
- ½ pound bologna, cut julienne-style
- 1 cup diced celery
- 2 tablespoons pickle relish, drained
- 1 can (16 ounces) pork and beans in tomato sauce
- 1 can (16 ounces) garbanzo beans, drained
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- ¼ cup Italian dressing
- Lettuce

Combine summer sausage, bologna, celery, pickle relish, onions, pork and beans and garbanzo beans. Chill. Mix vinegar with dressing. Just before serving, pour dressing over salad mixture and toss lightly.

Steve Norton, Director of Sales for the Villa Hotel, appears to be everywhere as he coordinates various banquets and private functions for the Villa's excellent facilities. Steve was appointed to the post in the early part of last year, and immediately a marked improvement was shown in the marketing areas of conventions, tours and business conferences.

Beautiful Karen Arriola, former Playboy Bunny Girl, serves the 50-cent cocktails at the Golden Steer restaurant on Redwood City's Woodside Road from 3 to 7 p.m., along with hot 'n' cold hors d'ouevres. Dinners are served every night, except Sunday, with Sirloin Steak being the house specialty. Piano bar entertainment from 8:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Construction is moving along on the newest addition to Fred and Jerry Rapp's South San Francisco Holiday Inn. When completed in early October, 80 additional rooms will be available to the countless numbers who visit this well sought-out complex.

Vince's Restaurant Fisherman's Wharf Of the Peninsula

Scallopini with mushrooms, chicken cacciatore, sweetbreads, chicken livers saute, veal cutlet parmigiano, spaghetti and meatballs, ravioli and many delightful sea foods are all established "specialties of the house" at Vince's Italian and Sea Food restaurant. Since 1945, Vince's restaurant has been known as the "Fisherman's Wharf' of the Peninsula, with Italian food being added to the menu in 1956.

A "Safe Deposit" When You Reserve The "Bank Room"

The luxurious 'Bank Room of the Shadows restaurant in San Mateo has been completed, and Dave Rasmussen and his crew fully deserve the awards and compliments which will surely be coming their way. From its deep piled carpeting to the hand carved doors, the "Bank Room" is magnificent. Up to 250 people can be accommodated in the party room, which also includes a portable bar and dance floor. Several groups have already gathered here, with 30 different functions scheduled within the next month. Chef Bill Mills is ready, willing and very able to take care of any outdoor catering parties — and the larger the better.

Relish Tray And French Bread New For Stickney's

Robert Hoffmeyer, the on-the-ball manager of San Mateo's Stickney's restaurant, informed me Wednesday during luncheon that Stickney's has added a relish tray to all full course dinners, and French bread will be served in the place of dinner rolls. After enjoying a Stickney's breakfast, luncheon or dinner, you just can't resist casting an eye on the cookie and cake display, which is as inviting as Robert Hoffmeyer intended it to be. If you don't order a take out goodie from the pastry shop, then you have stronger will power than this scribe.

One Of A Kind Night Club Makes Peninsula Debut

The Broadwalk, a unique nitery located on El Camino Real at the former site of the Soul Mateo, will make its Peninsula debut Wednesday, June 19. As co-owner Bob Colonna puts it — "The Broadwalk will be a 'one-of-a-kind' night club featuring topless entertainment in an environment never before associated with a nitery." Featured will be dancer Angelque, the curvy lass who appeared in "Thunderball" as one of James Bond's diversions.

Good natured "Tennessee Ernie" Ford, who sings with sincerity, is back on the stage of Harrah's Tahoe telling stories of the "good old days" and singing songs that have lyrics worth hearing. The International Inn's Doug Young and his hard-working staff were exceptionally attentive to a group meeting held in one of the restaurant's banquet rooms, last Monday. Needless to say, the group consisted of many pretty United stewardesses, who meet at this South San Francisco complex regularly for luncheon.

Fourth of July Week End Nick's 41st Anniversary

NICK GUST is so busy between political duties and his Nick's restaurant that his vacation plans have been "grounded." However, remember the Fourth of July weekend is also the anniversary holiday for Nick and Lorraine's Pacifica restaurant and banquet headquarters. This year's activities will be cause for much celebration . . . Jimmie Lee, known for his master culinary abilities, is back as chef at San Mateo's Skylark restaurant. The Bell Family, recently returned from a two-week vacation which took in New York, Miami and the Bahamas, are delighted to have him back at the helm . . . Headlining the marque at Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel is the Cava Combo, who came direct from an engagement at the Sands in Las Vegas. Various groups have auditioned for hotel owners Michael and Grayce Gottlieb in the past, but the Cava Combo outshone them all. Now they are a mainstay at the Thunderbolt, and Chez Michel patrons wouldn't have it any other way.

LUCIEN SABELLA, prominent Fisherman's Wharf restaurateur, and Lew Lehr, the Marina steak "king," have to be two of the restaurant industry's most avid golf "swingers." They'd walk a mile for a golf game any day of the week — and twice on Sunday. . . . Fabbro's in Redwood City has a well-deserved reputation as a fine dinner house, but owner Frank Fabbro would probably stay in business even if he opened his restaurant for lunches only. SCOUT PLAQUE—Robert Morford of the Westlake Music Center, sponsor of Daly City Explorer Post 195 (Westmoor High School's Stage Band), Robin Kramer, an honorary member of the unit, and Peter Markovich of the Explorer Post, admire replica of Scout emblem presented the band at San Francisco Bay Area BSA Council gathering.

Wood Lore, Star Study For Scouts

Boy Scout troops are following the wood lore and star study theme this month with a bicycle camp-out as a special highlight, but each troop's boy and adult leaders will plan the extra action that gives even more depth to the month-long schedule of meetings.

"This won't be classroom learning," John Montgomery, Scout commissioner of the San Mateo County Council, explained. "This theme can mean a bicycle check and repairs, bike games, a bike rodeo, making bike saddlebags and riding bikes to an overnight campsite. Then, the Scouts may make an oatmeal box constellation projector and slides for star study, make plaster casts, see movies or filmstrips on nature subjects and take part in nature games and field work."

The younger Cub Scouts during June will use the theme "When Dad Was a Boy," and den and pack activities may move outdoors. Suggested activities include making equipment like dad used to make, a father-and-son activity for Father's Day, backyard neighborhood shows, swimming and observance of Flag Day.

The 10-year-old Webelos Cub Scouts in most of the packs will work on the geologist badge and will make collections, take field trips and carry out special "pebble pup" projects, Montgomery said.

Exploring for high-school-age boys provides for each explorer Post to plan its own activities, but many will use suggested events such as a look at the business of real estate, a campus visit and a refresher of the "ready" emergency service program of the Boy Scouts.

Westmoor Band Boosters Elect; Plaque Presented

The Westmoor Music Boosters' regular meeting was held May 23, following the Westmoor Fine Arts Festival.

Howard Loeffler, music director, reported on the activities of the Music Department for the past year.

It was thought that a great deal had been accomplished during the year, and that part of the accomplishment could be attributed to the fact that the students had the interest and support of their parents.

Mrs. Peter Markovich, president of the Boosters' Club, thanked the members for their hard work and interest in organizing the group, and presented the sale of officers for the next year, all of whom were elected unanimously.

Shelly Byers, president; Mrs. Don Garrity, vice-president; Mrs. George Brandt, recording secretary; Mrs. Berniece Summers, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Reece, historian; Mrs. Robert Crawford, sergeant at arms.

Byers expressed his anticipation of "a pleasant and successful year to come," and pledged his full support for the aims of the group.

A dinner meeting for the Scout officials of the San Francisco Bay Area Council Boy Scouts of America was held at the Scottish Rite Temple in Oakland on June 5, with over 600 persons in attendance.

The Stage Band of Westmoor High School, which is also Explorer Post 195, played for the dinner.

Led by Loeffler and Greg Adams, student leader, they offered contrasting numbers, including "Johnny's Theme," "Girl from Ipanema," and "September in the Rain."

Brenda Wells was the featured vocalist.

The highlight of the evening for the Stage Band was the presentation to them of a replica of the scout symbol, almost two feet high.

The engraving states: "Post 195, Westmoor High School, 1968 Scout-O-Rama."

It was awarded for the group's presentation of a two-hour concert at the Cow Palace at the Scout-O-Rama.

Pacifica Cab Asks Boost

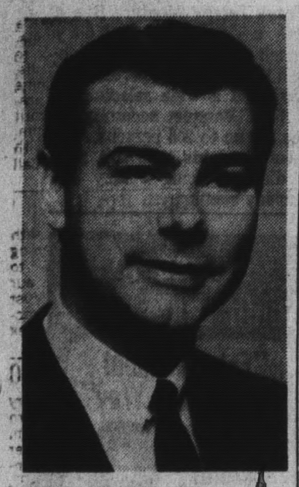
George L. McMahon, owner and operator of the Pacifica Cab Co., has petitioned the council for approval of a fare rate increase "to cover rising operational costs."

In a letter to the council this week, McMahon requested that the present rate of 50 cents for the first one-sixth mile and 50 cents for each mile thereafter be increased to 60 cents for the first one-sixth mile and 60 cents for each mile thereafter.

He pointed out that similar increases have been approved for taxi companies in other North Peninsula cities, and said his operating costs "have risen steadily for the past five years."

Councilmen refered the matter to the city administrative staff for study. It will be considered again at the next regular meeting.

An ordinance amendment would be necessary to increase the fare rate, according to City Manager C. W. Masonheimer.



RICHARD C. MILLARD, controller of San Mateo Mutual Savings at 417 South B Street, San Mateo, has been elected president of the San Francisco chapter of the American Savings and Loan Institute. He is a member of the Heart Association of San Mateo County and lives with wife Carolynne at 195 Sylvan Avenue, San Bruno.

5th Birthday Celebrated At Art 'Show'

Childrens' Day at Periwinkle Art Gallery, 2027 Palmetto Avenue, Pacifica, will be held Saturday, June 22. From 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. children are invited to paint a picture which they may take home. Paint, paper and brushes will be supplied by Periwinkle. Talent and ideas will come from the children participating. All ages are invited and "sidewalk supervisors" will not be turned away. All children intending to paint are advised to wear old clothes.

The reason for this sidewalk art is to celebrate Andrew Hegedus' fifth birthday. He is the youngest of the three Hegedus now having a family show at the Periwinkle Art Gallery. Andrew first showed talent at the age of two when swabbing polish on his father's shoes, the kitchen counter and himself.

His creative spirit soon knew no bounds. He discovered white cold cream, red lipstick, his mother's brushes and his father's paints. He used this unusual mixed media to decorate himself. Andrew obviously was earnest about making painting his career.

D.C. Man Jailed On Knife Threat

Jerry Lee Cimino, 20, of 526 San Diego Avenue, Daly City, was arrested by police Thursday on charges of shoplifting, brandishing of a weapon, and possession of an illegal knife.

Daly City police said Cimino had been suspected of shoplifting by an employe of the Mayfair Market at 2665 Geneva Avence, at about 6 p.m.

The employe, Karl H. Wolf of San Jose, asserted he watched the suspect walk out of the store with salami in a pocket. He followed. Wolf said he approached Cimino out on the parking lot.

Wolf charged that the suspect, when asked to return to the store, pulled out a knife, with a 4¼-inch blade.

"I carry this for protection. Don't call the police," the store employe said the suspect told him.

Cimino finally returned to the store and later was take into custody by Daly City police.

GREGORY J. ROMERO, a 1964 Westmoor graduate, received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering last week in graduation ceremonies at the University of California in Berkeley. Gregory is the son of Mrs. Lucienne Romero of Daly City.

Bruno Cyclist Is Injured

A motorcyclist, student James JuPree Long, 15, of 470 Chestnut Avenue, San Bruno, was hurt when his motorcycle smashed into a steel pole at the east entrance to the Capuchino High School parking lot at 5:10 p.m. Thursday.

San Bruno police said Long was entering the parking lot, off Magnolia Avenue, at the time of the accident.

He was taken to Peninsula Hospital.

Earlier in the day, a 63-year-old housewife, Ella Agnes Olson, of 611 Elm Avenue, San Bruno, was hurt after her car collided with a dirt haul truck on El Camino Real near the Kaines Avenue intersection.

Police said Mrs. Olson was coming out of the Mills Market parking lot, north of Kaines, at 10:10 a.m. when her car struck the right side of the truck's trailer

Driver of the truck, which was southbound in the center lane of El Camino, was Frank T. Mooney, 33, of 127 Rosemead Avenue, Pacifica.

Mrs. Olson was taken to Peninsula Hospital.

Ex-CHP Officer In Hot Chase

Frank Chevalier, a retired California Highway Patrol officer, got a taste of the action of former days yesterday.

Chevalier, 65, of 1221 Laguna avenue, Burlingame, was on Bayshore Freeway in South San Francisco when he saw an old-model sedan speed off after striking another auto in the rear, taking the Brisbane turnoff.

The former patrolman chased after the car and finally managed to get it stopped at Old Bayshore Highway and Geneva Avenue in Daly City.

When Highway Patrolman M. L. Humes arrived at the scene he found the suspect sitting in his car, being watched over by Chevalier. Humes said the driver, Orvis W. King, 53-year-old San Francisco gas station operator, flunked a roadside sobriety test. King was booked at county jail for investigation of drunk driving.

Driver of the car that was hit was identified as Louis C. Ott, 55, of Kentfield.

Fire Sweeps San Bruno Landmark

Arson is suspected in the fire damage early Friday of one of San Bruno's oldest commercial buildings.

San Bruno Fire Marshal Harper Peterson said "thousands of dollars" in damage were caused to the Town Cobbler store at 466 San Mateo Avenue, when fire erupted at 12:11 a.m.

Peterson said Paul Lockner, 60, of San Francisco, who was helping the owner of the store, Paul Zuniga, was sleeping inside the building and discovered the blaze.

Lockner told firemen he heard a noise and then saw flames near the back door of a garage-type addition to the cobbler's shop.

Lockner attempted to extinguish the blaze but was unsuccessful.

He had just prepared for bed and Lockner still in his underwear and barefoot hailed a passing motorist to get the fire department.

While there was no damage to machinery in the story, smoke and heat damage was severe throughout the store, fire officials said. Stock was also damaged.

Peterson said the store was in "one of the oldest buildings in town."

While the shoe shop fire was being fought, standpy firemen were called to extinguish a blaze in a garbage can behind the Edwards Junior Bootery store a block and a half away at 412 San Mateo Avenue. There was no damage.

At 12:11 a.m. the firemen had responded to a trash fire at the Lucky Market on El Camino, where damage was confined to a large trash bin.

The firemen again were awakened at 5 a.m. They responded to a false alarm.

Hunter Safety Class at S.S.F.

D.C. Youth To Capitol For Meeting

David Klonoff of Daly City has been selected as one of two boys to go to Washington, D.C. early this week and meet with high-ranking Soviet officials to discuss the dilemma facing the Russian Jews today. The trip is his prize for placing second in a recent Oratory Contest sponsored by the Bay Area Jewish Welfare Federation, and depicting the current plight of the Soviet Jewry. David, who represented Congregation B'nai Israel of Daly City in the contest, is a National Merit Finalist, a 1968 graduate of Lick-Wilmerding High School in San Francisco, and will enter the University of California at Berkeley in the fall. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Klonoff, 20 Fernwood Avenue, Daly City.

Permit For Sand Haul Is Rejected

Pacifica councilmen upheld an administrative decision denying a grading and hauling permit for removal of sand off an Esplanade Avenue location last week.

Trucking contractor John Finetti asked the council to overrule the administrative staff's denial of a permit to remove an additional 10,000 square yards of sand from a "quarry site."

Finetti said he is under contract to the Guy F. Atkinson Co. to deliver another 10,000 square yards of material within the next few months and also needs to continue operations at the location to meet stipulations set down by the council last month for improvement of the site.

However, Mayor Nick Gust and council members said Finetti, "for all practical purposes," was seeking a permit to continue quarry operations at the site, "and we told you at the last meeting there can be no more quarrying at this location."

The council refused to renew Finetti's permit last month after residents of the neighborhood complained about the quarrying operations. City officials also noted at that time that he had exceeded the grading limitations of his permit.

Councilmen advised the contactor to present site development plans, then reapply for a grading permit.

Bruno Clear In Brown Act

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson said today that he does not anticipate any legal action against the San Bruno City Council, accused of violating the Brown Act.

Sorenson had been asked by Dick Griffith to look into the matter. Griffith, a twice-defeated candidate for the council, claims the council has violated the Brown Act by meeting in executive session.

The district attorney stated that there is not sufficient evidence to warrant prosecution. said Mrs. Joinville.
